ROGERS AGAIN GIVES WARNING ABOUT SURPRISE

(Special To The News)
LONDON, Jan. 21.—When you read this in the morning we will already have listened to the king. Every body must remain standing during his speech. Be a good joke on us if some senator wrote his speech for him.

WILL ROGERS
I got the boys all looking fairly respectable. Mr. Robinson helped me scrub Joe up. Poor little Mr. Morrow can't keep his silk sile on his head and Gen. Dawes would look better if his wouldn't stay on, but his old ash can pipe was never given off more arrogant aroma. Remember, MacDonald will surprise them. Got a real kick yesterday, picked up a telephone at three o'clock and woke up the family at seven o'clock in Beverly Hills, Cal., and got the call through in exactly eight minutes. No prearrangements at all. Clear as life.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

A sled in the Adams street vicinity, equipped with an automobile horn, drew considerable interest, Monday afternoon. Needless to say the young owner of the sled was quite proud of the noisy horn.

Now is the season when all the aristocratic dogs of the city proudly strut around in their bright and fancy little sweaters.

A little boy's dignity was sadly encroached upon, when he lost a race on sleds, with a little girl much younger than himself, as winner. The little girl sympathized with him, and let him win the next race. There's a woman for you!

Radio listeners early this morning heard the opening ceremonies of the Naval Limitations Five Power parley which is now under way in London. King George of England and representatives of all five powers concerned took part in the opening program.

Youngsters who got a sled on Christmas are getting a real chance to make use of the present. Sledding is reported excellent on some of the hills of the city.

Pa Newc has seen a lot of unusual license numbers and letter combinations recently but one that particularly struck him last night was 6V8.

Three Killed In Southern Crash

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 21.—Three bodies and more than a score of injured passengers were brought here early today after a northbound passenger train on the Louisville and Nashville railroad struck a faulty switch thirty-five miles north of here last night.

Although the bodies had not yet been fully identified it was reported that Thomas Harrison engineer, and Max Sexton, fireman, and an unidentified passenger were killed.

All but the last three coaches hurtled into the ditch and overturned. The dead and injured were placed aboard the upright cars and were hauled here by another engine.

Daily Weather Report

Weather statistics for the 24-hour period ending at nine o'clock this morning are as follows:
Maximum temperature, 24.
Minimum temperature, 6.
Precipitation, .08 inches, 30 inches of snowfall.
River stage, 6.2 feet; stationary.

Coroner's Jury Probes Shooting Of C. Clark Rea

Hears Testimony And Recommends Four Youths Be Held For Murder

INVESTIGATORS TELL OF CONFESSIONS MADE

E. H. Rea Points Out One Of Youths As Bandit During Hearing

We, the jury, find that Cyrus Clark Rea came to his death at his home in Neshannock township, Lawrence county, Pa., on Wednesday, January 15, 1930, between 7 and 8 p. m., as a result of a bullet fired from a gun in the hands of a person whose identity is unknown to the jury at this time, and in view of the testimony would recommend that Charles Llewellyn, William Grimm, Jesse Martin and Jack McDevitt be held for the grand jury.

Such was the verdict of the coroner's jury sitting at the inquest held last night by Coroner J. P. Caldwell at the office of Alderman L. C. Mantz and following testimony offered by E. H. Rea, brother of the murder victim, Dr. H. E. Zerner and Messrs. L. B. McAnaney and Charles P. Barrett, special investigators in the case for the district attorney.

Hearing and Inquest.
Testimony offered in connection with the inquest was also used as evidence in a hearing held in connection with the inquest by Alderman L. C. Mantz on the charges of murder made against Charles Llewellyn and William Grimm, two of the defendants in the case.

Alderman Mantz announced at the close of the testimony that he would hold Charles Llewellyn as William Grimm on the charges of murder. As this charge is not bailable, they will be held in the county jail for trial and disposition of the case.

Testimony offered in the case was very similar to that already told in connection with various phases of the case with which the various witnesses were in some manner or other, connected.

Brother Testifies.
E. H. Rea, a man of eccentric habits as well as the brother, who was murdered, was the first witness examined.

MARTIN ADMITS PART IN HOLD-UP

With Jesse Martin, Shady-side, in custody here, and Jack McDevitt in the custody of Detective John Young and Officer Thomas Lynch at Indiana Harbor, Indiana, where he was apprehended, and due back here some time tonight, the four young men said by District Attorney Powers to be implicated in the murder of Cyrus Clark Rea on Wednesday, January 15, have all been apprehended.

Jesse Martin was returned here from Detroit, Michigan, last night about 8:40 o'clock by Lieutenant of Police Peter Hillers and Constable A. S. Leslie. Enroute home, he informed these officers that he was ready to tell the story and everything he knew about it and only wanted an opportunity to tell the truth.

Following his arrival here, he was placed in the city jail and later was questioned by Chief of Police C. C. Horner, District Attorney John S. Powers, Lieutenant Hillers and Constable Leslie and made a statement, which he signed and which was witnessed by these men.

Bring McDevitt Back
A message received today at noon by Chief Horner from Detective Young and Officer Lynch was to the effect that everything was all right and that they would arrive here late tonight with Jack McDevitt.

The story of Martin as told the officers in his signed statement last night differs in a number of details, principally in the matter of how many times they visited the Rea home before they finally did the job that resulted in murder, and as to the manner in which it occurred.

He stated in part that Llewellyn (Continued On Page Two)

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—The lad who plugged up the dikes of Holland with his body was paraphrased today in a modern epic of heroism.
Harold Vivian, chief control operator for the Columbia Broadcasting system was the lad. He held two broken ends of a high voltage electric wire in his naked hands so that the world could listen to the radio broadcasting of King George's speech at the opening of the naval conference in London.

A second before the historic address by the king was to begin a member of the control room staff stumbled over the wire leading from the switch-

FIVE POWERS TAKE PART IN CONFERENCE

Opening Of Parley To Limit Size Of Navies Is Inspiring Spectacle

By GEORGE R. HOLMES,

LONDON, Jan. 21.—In the glittering golden-hued Royal Gallery of the House of Lords, which through the years has seen history-making of a far different sort, five powers inaugurated this morning the most ambitious attempt to limit navies that the world has seen since the historic Washington conference.

Today's opening was in startlingly direct contrast to Washington, where the then Secretary of State Charles Evans Hughes electrified the world with his sharp admonition to the powers to reduce their navies or be outbuilt by the United States.

King Opens Parley.
There was no such peremptory beginning today—instead, King George of England opened the session with a hospitable and innocuous greeting which was followed by the heads of each government professing their loyalty to the cause of disarmament, but significantly drawing attention to the manifold difficulties.

One after another Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson, Premier Andre Tardieu, Dino Grandi and Reijiro Wakatsuki arose and solemnly pledged their utmost efforts for success and pleaded for good will and confidence as indispensable.

And all reminded their colleagues of the shoals ahead.
Inspiring Spectacle.
It was a beautiful and inspiring spectacle. Behind the horseshoe table where the delegates sat was an enormous fresco depicting the death of (Continued On Page Two)

To Be Given Cell Formerly Occupied By Alleged Slayers

When Irene Schroeder arrives at the Lawrence county jail she will be placed in the same cell which has held three other women who have been charged with murder, according to Deputy Sheriff William Reynolds. The cell has been renovated and is now in good shape for the reception of the notorious prisoner. She will be in solitary confinement.

Changes have also been made in the cell to be occupied by Glen Dague, who will also be placed in solitary confinement, pending the trial.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—President Hoover, two members of his cabinet and the "best minds" of his law enforcement commission were drawn into the prohibition spotlight today as the wet and dry war spread on an ever widening front.

The President had before him a personal appeal from Rep. Sirovich (D) of N. Y., a wet, urging him to halt the government's practice of poisoning industrial alcohol. Sirovich reported the President "knew his chemistry" but that he had no assurance Mr. Hoover would stop the use of deadly poisons in denaturing industrial alcohol. While despondent over ill health, Vito Callarossi, aged 24, of 1206 Butler avenue, committed suicide about 9 o'clock last night by shooting himself through the heart.

Callarossi fired the fatal shot in the presence of his aunt, Mrs. Mary Bailey, and four cousins.
As he dropped to the floor a 32 calibre revolver fell out of his hand. He never spoke, although he kept breathing for some time. A physician was summoned but he found Callarossi dead when he arrived.

SECOND MAN HELD IN ARIZONA IS NOT TOM CRAWFORD SAYS EVANS

Habeas Corpus Proceedings May Delay Return Of Pair For Short Time—Mrs. Schroeder Is Defiant—New Castle Officers Reach Phoenix This Morning

By BART RICHARDS
(News Staff Correspondent)

PHOENIX, Arizona, Jan. 21.—Patrolman Ernest Moore, of the Pennsylvania State Highway patrol, who was wounded in the gun battle with two men and a woman on the New Castle-Butler highway near New Castle on December 27, stepped into the jail here today, took one look at Mrs. Irene Schroeder, and her companion, Glen Dague, and immediately stated they were the pair that had taken part in the shooting.

At the same time, Charles Evans, of Benwood, W. Va., who accompanied the New Castle party to Phoenix, for the purpose of identifying the third member of the bandit gang, said positively that he is not Tom Crawford, the third person sought for the hold-up on the New Castle-Butler road.

In the meantime Mrs. Schroeder continues to maintain her defiant attitude, although it is believed that she will weaken before New Castle is reached, and she has manifested a willingness to return.

The extradition papers are being presented to the governor of Arizona this afternoon, and it is possible that the return of the prisoners may be deferred a day or two, because of habeas corpus proceedings have been started by attorneys for Mrs. Schroeder, and a hearing will have to be held on this effort to stay return of the prisoner to Pennsylvania.

It is practically conceded here that the third member of the bandit trio is Joe Wells, and that he is a Western bandit. Start will be made at once by the Pennsylvania States police to endeavor to run down Tom Crawford, the third man sought for the New Castle crime on December 27.

The third member of the party captured by the Arizona authorities, last week, Joe Wells, will probably be held in Arizona, and will be tried here for his offenses.

Phoenix, Arizona, Jan. 21.—Irene Schroeder is ready to come back to Pennsylvania, but she doesn't want to come back until she gets her hair marcelled.

In the Maricopa county jail this morning I talked to her, but any attempt at intelligent conversation with the woman is balked by a very evident adherence to the instructions of her attorneys, a pair of young fellows here named Rummel and Jennings.

Balked in their attempts at mandamus proceedings, balked in their attempt to have Irene and Dague waive preliminary hearings, and thus throw the case into the state superior court, they are now waiting until County Detective Peck Lee presents his requisition papers to Governor Phillips. One of them will be in the state house and the other in the office.

The minute the requisition papers are signed they will be scrutinized for flaw and a habeas corpus asked.

Sheriff Wright is ready to turn over the prisoners and Irene is ready to go.

Blonde as Thor and as brazen as Jezebel she laughed this morning in the jail and said she had no doubts, she knew nothing of any such person. Her lips are painted a deep carmine, while her hair looks like handful of strings. Her satin has been replaced by a jail kimono and sharing her cell room are a colored woman, a Mexican woman and another American woman.

Detective Lee expects to present his requisition papers to Governor Phillips this afternoon, and the last stab of the counsel for Irene and Glenn Dague will be made.

If their efforts at habeas corpus fail, then the prisoners will be ready to come back.

Because of the two hours difference in time this will be about five o'clock New Castle time it is anticipated.

Arrive This Morning.
PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 20.—Lawrence county and state officers coming here to secure custody of Mrs. Irene Schroeder, Glenn Dague and possibly the second man, captured with her a week ago, arrived in this city at 6:30 o'clock this morning, 8:30 New Castle time.

The party was delayed several hours enroute, due to trains being late, and late yesterday, made a stop over of several hours at El Paso, Texas, taking a train out of that Texas city "at night."

During the stop over at El Paso, the party had a brief visit to Juarez, Mexico, just across the United States boundary line.

On arrival here, preparations were at once made to present the extradition (Continued On Page Fourteen) and Grim came to him some time ago and asked him if he could get a gun and he replied that it might be possible. He asked them why and they informed him that they knew where to get some easy money. He finally consented to go with them.

Grim insisted finally that four instead of three were needed and they met McDewitt and all went on the first visit. McDewitt went to the back door and rapped and asked whoever answered inside if they had a horse. The man inside asked what they wanted with a horse and McDewitt told him they had their car in a ditch and wanted a horse to get it out. The man inside said he was sorry but that he had no horse and couldn't help them.

McDewitt then asked for a rope and the man inside said they had no rope. On a second visit possibly three days later, the same group went to the window. They went to the front door and Grim told the talking, asking if they had any kerosene oil. They talked with the men inside but didn't get any oil.

They returned again that same night but it was decided that another time would be better and they returned to town again without doing anything.

Broke Window.

They returned on the night of January 15, all armed. There McDewitt and Llewellyn went to the window next to the road and Grim and Martin to the window on the other side. Grim had a club and broke the window on their side. He saw one of the Rea men throw a chair at the window. There were shots and then the others went in, Martin staying outside.

He was on guard and came back to the window in about ten minutes and told them to be snappy. He saw McDewitt leaning over a man on the floor, whom he says is the man still living. McDewitt was threatening the man as he lay there with his hands up.

Then the others came out and they hurried to the automobile. Martin claims that he did not know any person had been shot until they had been in the car some time and were hurrying to the city, when Grim and Llewellyn told him one of the men had been shot. They claimed to him that his head had been grazed by a bullet and that he was not badly hurt.

Then the money was divided, he receiving $10.20 from McDewitt as his share. Later when he learned of the death of Rea, he decided to leave town and went to Detroit, where he was apprehended.

About noon today Martin was removed to the office of Alderman L. C. Mantz, where he was acquainted with the charge of murder, and then removed to the county jail.

a bill in congress to halt the custom on the ground that thousands of gallons of the poisoned alcohol were diverted into bootleg channels, causing death and suffering to hapless consumers.

Mellon-Mitchell Called

Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon and Attorney General William E. Mitchell were summoned as witnesses by committees at both ends of the Capitol to testify regarding the transfer of prohibition enforcement from the Treasury to the Department of Justice. Both will appear tomorrow and Mitchell probably will be recalled later to testify regarding the constitutionality of the President's proposal for increasing the powers of U. S. Commissioners.

Three members of the law enforcement commission—George W. Wickensham, chairman, Roscoe Pound, the Harvard Dean, and Judge William S. Kenyon—were called to the witness chair this morning by a house judiciary sub-committee, investigating the feasibility of making police magistrates out of U. S. commissioners. The constitutionality of this proposal has been under attack on the ground that it eliminates "trial by jury" even though for minor offenses against the dry law.

To Question Probers

The dry noted investigators of prohibition conditions may well be prepared for a far wider interrogation. Their appearance before the sub-committee, of which Rep. Christopher (R) of D., will mark the first time any body of congress has had an opportunity to question them about their famous inquiry or the reasons for information lying behind their recent report.

The drys meanwhile were concentrating on beating down every legislative attack on prohibition and on enacting the legislative program asked by the President for drying up the country. They appear to face a long and tortuous legislative path, despite their overwhelming majority in both house and senate. The tariff bill will halt all legislative activities in the senate until the middle of February, thus delaying the program at least that long. After that, the pressure of other legislation and the absolutely necessary departmental appropriation bills will serve to further delay action.

Such dry leaders as Senator Jones and Senator Sheppard (D) of Tex. were hopeful of getting a bill through this spring for transfer of prohibition enforcement from the treasury to the department of justice. If this is accomplished, they will not feel the present session has been lost, even if the other bills fail.

HISTORIC NAVAL PARLEY FORMALLY OPENS IN LONDON

Admiral Nelson at Trafalgar, and facing this a companion fresco showing Wellington meeting Blucher after Waterloo—a warlike setting for such a tremendous undertaking in behalf of peace.

Nearly 800 persons filled the gallery. Of these 30 were the principal delegates and scores of technical advisers, 50 newspaper correspondents, peers, British officials and others, but out beyond these the whole world listened in through the greatest world-wide radio hook-up ever attempted. Far away New Zealand heard as well as the nearby continent.

As host to the conference, Premier MacDonald outlined the aims of the parley immediately following King George's speech of welcome, stressing the most vital necessity of success. Unless naval competition stopped, he warned that the whole world was travelling the same road which led to 1914.

With this he made a special plea for special consideration of Britain's position as an island empire, more dependent upon sea power than any others.

MacDonald Gives Warning

Premier MacDonald, who took over chairmanship of the epochal conference as soon as King George had concluded his brief speech of welcome, began his address with a note of stern warning that naval competition among the powers of the world was already underway, and that if a stop was put to it immediately, the events which led to the outbreak of the World War would see themselves duplicated again.

He said that the delegates reach an agreement that could form the basis for a general disarmament conference at a later date, and called upon the nations of the world to respect their pledges under the Kellogg pact.

"This agreement," he said with emphasis, "must put a stop to the competition which has already begun to show itself both in types and numbers of ships."

"If we are not careful we shall once more be involved in feverish competition which heralded the outbreak of the war in 1914."

Each of the other chief delegates then spoke in turn, setting forth his nations views on the subject of disarmament and pledging themselves to exert their powers to the fullest to preserve peace in the world by limiting the size of armed forces of the sea.

Stimson Takes Floor

Secretary Stimson then took the floor and in a clear, strong voice, outlined to the assembled delegates the high hopes which the United States had for the conference would result in a complete success.

He stressed the fact, however, that this could be considered at best only a temporary achievement, which must be followed by a permanent one. He said that the United States would not be satisfied until the world had reached a permanent peace-making agreement evolved from the present parley.

"I feel it is important to emphasize the fact that we do not look upon this effort toward disarmament as final," Secretary Stimson declared. "Naval limitation is a continuous process. We regard disarmament as a goal to be reached by successive steps, by frequent revision and improvement. Human affairs are not static, but are moving and we believe improving. A situation reached today, however perfect, may not respond to conditions at a later date."

Tardieu Has Hopes

Premier Tardieu of France also expressed high hopes that the conference would result in success, but laid particular emphasis on the fact that whatever agreement is reached must be subservient to further action by the League of Nations.

He urged that the delegates not be bound by mathematical formulae, stating that no more formula can "resist the pressure of life."

Grandi, who spoke on behalf of Italy, called the attention of the delegates to the peace program of Premier Benito Mussolini, and declared that a long period of peace throughout the world is necessary for its fulfillment.

Japanese To Go Limit

Reiito Watanuki, premier of Japan, told the conference that his nation was prepared to go the limit in disarmament, consistent with its national security.

A dense fog penetrated the gallery, blurring the faces of the delegates and their interpreters. A gold plated one had been provided for the use of his majesty the king.

The delegates and diplomats, representing a total of forty-seven nations, were in their assigned seats well in advance of the king's arrival. Premier MacDonald greeted among the delegates who had not met their co-workers on a social footing. The wives of all the delegates were in attendance, they being the only women in the gallery.

Long Session

Because of the necessity for tedious translations, the session was long and drawn out.

It was 1:20 this afternoon (8:20 a. m. E. S. T.) before the speeches were finally concluded.

Premier MacDonald immediately adjourned the opening session and announced the conference would be resumed at 10 o'clock Thursday morning. At that time a close plenary session will be held at St. James palace.

Butcher Is Sent To Hospital After Visit Of Canines

READING, Pa., Jan. 21.—Lewis Kreisher, a meat retailer, is in Homeopathic hospital here with a bad cut on the head, due to an accident in which he was an innocent bystander. A boy came into his shop with two dogs. The animals started fighting and one ran behind the counter, leaping high to escape Kreisher. The dog dislodged a hanging meat saw which hit Kreisher on the scalp.

STAR LORE

HOW CURVATURE OF STARLIGHT AT SOLAR ECLIPSE WAS TESTED.

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter.

The way curvature of light from a star that grazed the sun was tested was as follows. At the time of total eclipse of the sun photographs of the stars in the vicinity surrounding the sun were taken. Then some months before or after the eclipse, giving time for the sun to pass on its way another photograph of those same stars was taken. The result showed that the stars that had been immediately around the sun at the eclipse and had been made to appear farther from the sun because of the concave path of starlight were now back to their normal places. The displacement was definitely proven.

stairs, and changed his clothes. When he came down again he handed Mrs. Bailey, with whom he has roomed and boarded for several years, the amount of his board bill. He also gave Tony Bailey $5 telling him it was to buy flowers.

Bids Friends "Good-Bye"

Something in his manner appeared to be unnatural and after he had paid Mrs. Bailey he reached out his hand, saying "Good-bye." Mrs. Bailey refused to take his hand, immediately jumping to the floor. So abruptly was he going away, which he had done several times before when in a similar mood.

Callarossi shook hands with his four cousins, who, with their mother, Mrs. Bailey, were all in the kitchen of the Bailey home. He then picked up a group picture containing his mother, who is in Italy and gazed upon it for several seconds. Turning he started toward the back door of the kitchen. As he did so his back was toward the others in the room. He had only taken a few steps when his revolver cracked and he fell to the floor. So abruptly had he pulled the revolver that none of those in the room saw him do it. Mrs. Bailey's back was toward him at the time, and Anna Bailey, aged 13, the oldest child in the room, was looking at a book.

Leaves Notes

That Callarossi had deliberately planned to take his life was shown by two notes and a letter found in his pockets by the officials. In one of the notes which was written in clear English, told of the reason why he was going to end his life, among them being ill health. Some other matter in the note indicated that he could not have been exactly in his normal mind when it was written. There was another note and a sealed, addressed letter, with the note attached asking that it be mailed after he was dead.

Vito Callarossi was the son of Pauline Callarossi of Italy. His father is dead. Callarossi came here about seven years ago. He did not have very good health when he came, but he was ambitious and attended night school in order to learn to write the English language.

His aunt, Mrs. Bailey, with whom he lived, is a widow, her husband having been killed by lightning about seven years ago. Besides mother and aunt, he is survived by four cousins, Anna, Charles, Tony and Lee Bailey.

LEONHNER-CHAPMAN NUPITALS ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Leonhner, 1604 Highland avenue, announce the marriage of their daughter, Frances Clare, to Ned Cecil Chapman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Chapman of Hillcrest avenue.

The ring ceremony was solemnized in the Euclid Avenue Methodist church of Cleveland by Rev. Alton, pastor and the couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Limrick of Cleveland. The bride was charmingly gowned in egg shell blue lace, with a corsage of white roses and baby breath. Her accessories were carried out in tan.

Supplementing the ceremony a wedding dinner was served the wedding party in the Statler hotel and this evening an informal reception will be held for the bridal couple in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Geddes, Stanford Road, Cleveland.

Mr. and Mrs. Chapman are both graduates of the New Castle high school, class of '25 and the bride is a graduate of Westminster college and a member of the Sigma Kappa sorority while the groom attended University of Pitt and is a member of Pi Kappa Delta fraternity. Both are well known among the younger set of this city.

After a honeymoon spent in Cleveland, the couple will temporarily make their home with the bride's parents, 1604 Highland avenue.

YOUTHFUL GANGS SHOULD TAKE WARNING

SPEEDY capture of the quartet of youths who are accused by confession of two of their number, of the hold-up of two bachelors in their home in Neshannock township that resulted in murder, is not only a matter for commendation of the county and city officers concerned, but is likewise a most salutary lesson to all youths in this community who may be inclined to lean toward the "bandit gang."

Tragic indeed is the fate in store for these four youths who are now facing charges of murder.

But, it is only the fate that is awaiting all who enter upon a life of robbery and banditry. There is only one end. You may escape for a time but sooner or later, you will be caught.

Youths of New Castle and Lawrence county should take warning in time.

Ponder well the sad plight of these four youths.

WHAT BECOMES OF THE BEST SELLERS?

Professor Kitchen of the University of Pennsylvania declares that the best sellers of today are doomed to that limbo from which no book returns. This is a rather sweeping statement, and we take it for granted that the professor will admit that there may be some exceptions to the rule. But investigations and experience prove that it is the rule.

It is a matter of record that the great novelists of the nineteenth century are still read, and there is scarcely a year when there is not a while demand for the writings of authors like Dickens, Thackeray, Scott and George Eliot. It is true also of the early American authors, particularly those of the New England group. The copyrights on the work of such men as Hawthorne, Longfellow, Holmes, Whittier and Emerson expired many years ago, but interest in them has never died out and popular editions meet with a gratifying sale.

This does not mean that nothing of value is being written nowadays. On the contrary certain of our novelists are doing really fine work, but it will take at least a generation to decide whether it is going to live or not. Most novels are intended for their own day. A well told yarn with a good plot is always sure of readers. Professor Kitchen says: "In all of its forms the novel is everybody's entertainment. It is cheap, it can be carried with you, it requires no special equipment or expensive apparatus or extensive training to enjoy." But most of all it takes us out of ourselves. We can have love, romance and adventure while sitting at our own fireplace.

So, after all, there is a reason for the best sellers. Whether they live or not makes little difference as long as they furnish entertainment and beguile the idle hour.

DR. LOWELL'S SUGGESTION

Young men ambitious to achieve thorough educational training might well give heed to the suggestion of Dr. A. Lawrence Lowell, president of Harvard University, in his annual report to the university overseers. Dr. Lowell advocates an earlier entrance age for college students and offers what he terms a "drastic" but "well-nigh automatic" solution to the problem of thoroughness in imparting information, now confronting many of the larger educational institutions.

The solution, says Dr. Lowell, "would be that of abandoning the degree of master of arts altogether, and admitting to the school only men who at once can become candidates for the doctorate. At present our bachelor's degree with honors in a special field, involving a general examination and a thesis, is a better measure of capacity than a master's degree."

A tabulation submitted by Dr. Lowell shows that the average entrance age for college has been declining for forty years to the present average of 18 years and five months. Assuming that four years are required to complete the ordinary college course leading to a bachelor's degree, an additional year to acquire the master's degree and two more years for the degree of doctor, the young men of eighteen will find himself ready to begin his life work at the age of twenty-five.

It is doubtful that one knows just exactly "where he is at" before the age of 25 has been reached, but certainly one should know then, and especially so when educational opportunities have been grasped.

Dr. Lowell's idea seems to be that life after university training is worth more and therefore more time should be available to make use of it. The elimination of the master's degree would be a means to an end while at the same time oil would be poured on the dragging wheels of the collegiate machinery. The suggestion is another boost for the era of specialization.—The Roanoke World-News.

CHARM

Much talk about charm. Some people have charm, some have not. What is it? Robert Schaeffer, author, says that "charm is the result of being physically and spiritually so much a part of the life of things that you irresistibly radiate the concentrated essence of all life, and personally exemplify the same laws that whiten the cherry orchards of April, and kindle the volcano, and swing the stars on their courses."

That is a clever definition, but complex. Perhaps people who have charm are the ones who listen well, who seem very much interested in what we have to say, and who seek few opportunities to put forth their own opinions. To have charm is to have a real and earnest interest in others.

One objection to easy money is that the fellow who gets it feels uneasy.

A rocket trip to the moon would have more appeal if the rocket had the shape of a boomerang.

Thousands in America are hungry. But they grimly struggle on until they get down to normal weight.

It is estimated that 93 per cent of the people never would have their feelings hurt if they'd stop meddling.

Philosophy is what persuades a husband that, after all, it is the chivalrous thing to give in to her.

Money talks. But its verbal efforts are not responsible for as many sales as the ability to say "Charge it."

You may gain a little time by jay-walking, but it is a temporary advantage. The hearse will drive slowly.

New York To California.
Colorado A Winter Resort.
Earth's Champion Turkey.
What A Country This Is.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1929, King Features
Syn., Inc.)

This is written on "The Chief," Santa Fe fast train, leaving Chicago at 11:15 a. m., cutting one night from the coast-to-coast trip.

Bitterly cold weather through Illinois and into Kansas City, which will soon be as big as Chicago is now.

Then through Kansas, wonderful, placid state, where prohibition was taken seriously long before prohibition entered the Constitution.

Magnificent wide fields, thousands of cattle and pigs nibbling grass above the thin snow, enormous piles of straw worth little where they stand, worth $25 a ton in New York.

Fram Kansas "The Chief" climbs uphill into Colorado, the high state.

At La Junta, 4,500 feet above sea level, passengers and children leave the train for the first time, amazed at the warm sunshine at such an altitude.

L. G. Bonfils, whose Denver Post blankets this part of the world, should advertise Colorado as a winter resort. It will be a winter resort, and should be crowded, when flying is fully developed.

Colorado has the Rocky mountains, the fine capitol with the gold-covered dome in Denver, just one mile above the ocean; magnificent slopes covered with beautiful blue spruce, where you may still see footprints of dinosaurs in the sandstone.

And Colorado owns "Lady Bird," hen turkey that won the grand championship sweepstakes at the international show in Chicago.

Who possesses the Rocky mountains AND the champion hen turkey in the world, to say nothing of rainbow trout that weigh ten pounds, is worth while to travel.

You pass from Colorado into beautiful New Mexico. In all the world there is no sky so beautiful, no weather more perfect, no air more glorious. Then you realize the futility of trying to select "the best state in the Union."

Just ahead in Arizona, Col. Boyce Thompson says that is the finest land on earth.

It possesses the Grand Canyon, first wonder of the world.

Then Nevada, a little to the north, land of precious metals.

And then California, stretching a thousand miles along the Pacific with giant redwood and sprightly Hollywood.

Back far to the south, its northern boundary south of California's southern line, is Florida, sun parlor of the east, with fertility to feed the whole nation. To the northeast, New York with the tickers and all the money.

Giant Texas, biggest of all, and empire among 48 states and the other great states, lake states and New England, not even mentioned.

It's a wonderful country. Every American should see it all, and let his children see it. Our railroads offer the maximum of luxurious comfort.

Or an automobile will take you and your family anywhere for as little as you choose to spend.

It is such a fine country that we really ought to retain exclusive control of it, and not let any League of Nations court tell us what to do about its resources and responsibility.

George Washington managed that with fewer than 4,000,000 people. Why cannot we do it, with 120,000,000?

Mr. Muddock's Wichita Eagle, able Kansas statesman, tells a disappointing story of a "tenth birthday victory dinner" in honor of prohibition. Three hundred were expected, only 150 came "because it was so cold."

An irreverent "wet" suggests that if beer and wine had been part of the dinner, the "noble 300" would have found a way through the snow, somehow.

Mayor Lawrence of Wichita warns prohibitionists that their most dangerous enemy, is ridicule. "It is," he says, "the freest and deadliest weapon." "Wets" will be interested in that.

Governor Reed of Kansas told the gallant 150 that prohibition will surely stay "but it will take another generation before it will be satisfactorily enforced." That seems a long time to endure bootlegging and its crime wave.

CHICAGO—William Holm, until recently a South Dakota plowman, was driving his silver south in Kedzie avenue the other evening when he lost his way. At Madison street he besought a traffic cop for directions.

"Follow that street car," said the officer, indicating a southbound Kedzie avenue car. The ex-plowman heeded the instruction.

At Van Buren street the surface car turned into the barn. Right behind came Holm. He halted only when his car dropped into a seven foot pit between the rails, breaking every spring on the flivver.

"I thought we were coming to a tunnel," Holm explained.

People Prefer Pershing Free From Political Partizanship

Commendation Is Given To Army Chief's Decision Against Entering Senate Race Against Norris Of Nebraska

Gen. Pershing's decision against the proposal that he seek the Republican nomination for Senator from Nebraska is widely commended, and the idea of "drafting" him for the nomination receives scant attention from the country. It is evident from general comments that it is felt he occupies a position at present which would be affected if he were drawn into partisan controversies such as would be involved in Congress.

"His refusal to let himself be considered a candidate for the Senate," says the NEW YORK

"SUN," is characteristic of him and what might have been expected. His job as Commander of the A. E. F. came to an end long ago, but he has refused to relinquish certain responsibilities that went with the job. No man who has had the opportunity to lead American troops into battle as ably as he did, and who has lived through the years after the war without once suggesting to anybody that he was living an anticlimax, needs to be Senator from Nebraska to carry out his mission in life. Gen. Pershing has served his country well; he continues so to do.

Voicing a similar thought, the MILWAUKEE JOURNAL adds: "More important still, the idea of fighting the candidacy of Senator Norris isn't a very sound idea, especially in a State like Nebraska, which shows independence in political thought. The Senate of the United States needs more men like George W. Norris, not fewer. You may not always agree with Norris, but you know what he stands for, and you know it is his own ideas and principles he expresses. Many Americans cherishing the old sound ideal realize that, Nebraska seems to realize it."

"In refusing to be a candidate he shows high acumen," declares the SPOKANE SPOKESMAN-REVIEW, stating as to other national heroes:

"Washington was both soldier and statesman. He was a man of high character, commingled from youth, and the occasion called for a soldier-statesman. Many admirers of Gen. Grant wish he had not been tempted by the presidency. McClellan made the mistake of his life when he ran as Democratic nominee against him in 1864. Had he been a brilliant Union general of the Civil War, would have fared better with history, if he had not run for the presidency as he did. Democratic nominee in 1880. Army men do well to keep out of politics. Gen. Pershing acts upon that conviction and will stand higher in the regard of his countrymen."

"His leadership of the American Expeditionary Forces," avers the OMAHA WORLD-HERALD, "was distinguished by wisdom, by patriotism and by military genius of high order. To mention him now for the Senate only reveals how desperate is the hope of the regular Republicans of finding someone to beat Norris in the primary. * * * The battle that is being fought today is not one fought with bullets. It requires courage of a different order from that displayed in military campaigns. It requires a knowledge not gained in the councils of war. It calls for a sympathy with the common man not acquired under a discipline in which one man commands and all others implicitly obey. There is a crisis in Washington, but it is a crisis that can be met with gunfire and bayonets."

"Once he became mixed in a political controversy, he would lose much that he has gained in a field in which he excelled," says the LYNNBURGH ADVANCE. The ANN ARBOR DAILY NEWS assumes that "like many military officers he is probably a plain, blunt man," and would regret to see him associated with "the perpetual jockeying and stalling and arguing that are accompaniments of political life."

"Why not let him complete his life as a great soldier," asks the COLUMBUS OHIO STATE JOURNAL. "Why force him now to undertake the unpleasant experience of practical politics, a field of action with which he is entirely unfamiliar? Let his friends talk of his fine qualities for the senatorial position. The nation enjoys hearing all complimentary things they will say about him. But, in the end, let him remain Gen. John J. Pershing." The ALTOONA MIR-ROR similarly lauds him: "He has always been noted for the possession of good, common sense. As a soldier, he has achieved much honor and rendered distinguished service to his country and the world at large. As a member of the Senate he would probably feel very much out of place."

"A senatorial contest in Nebraska," advises the OAKLAND TRIBUNE, "could not help but be a bitter one, inasmuch as the opponent to any man who runs will be Senator Norris. He represents a definite insurance, following which carries into the fight some grain-state philosophy upon which feeling is both deep and divided. Throwing himself into a battle of the of the kind which would be certain to result, Gen. Pershing would have little to gain."

IGNORANCE

He knew Latin and he knew Greek. But the plumber who came to mend the tap Thought him a strangely ignorant chap Who couldn't fix faucets when they leak.

He stopped with a farmer once to chat And he looked at straw and called it hay. And the farmer said as he moved away: I'd certainly hate to be dumb as that."

All the ancient writers he could quote, But sailors laughed when he went to sea. And said: "What an ignorant fool is he To call such a splendid ship a boat!"

So in spite of the knowledge man has earned, There is so much to this worldly scheme That down to the last a fool he'll seem.

To the man who knows what he hasn't learned. (Copyright, 1930, Edgar A. Guest)

Fuller Society Meets

The members of the Fuller Missionary society of the Croton Avenue Methodist church met Monday night at the home of Mrs. Ralph Hechthorn, Crawford avenue with 17 members and three guests, Etta Lackey, Betty Joshua and Mrs. Reed, present.

The opening devotionals were led by Eve Nicklin, the deaconess, after which Betty Joshua and Etta Lackey gave an interesting missionary story. The lesson was in charge of Mrs. Vane John.

A social hour of games and sewing was concluded with a lunch served by the hostess with Mrs. Theodore McCreary as aide.

Rev. Tyrell at Mission.

Rev. W. C. Tyrell, pastor of Maitland Memorial church, will be the speaker at the City Rescue Mission this evening at 7:30 o'clock. A welcome is extended to the general public.

The ancient sacrificed children, too, but not because they were too ignorant or miserly to provide safe theatre exits.

Legion Directors Organize Monday

Home Administrators Name
H. M. Long As Chairman;
Business Follows

Directors of the American Legion Home association of this city met at the Legion Home, North Jefferson street and organized for the ensuing year following the annual meeting of the stockholders last night.

The board named Harry M. Long as chairman; Frank Nessel, vice chairman; Attorney Clarence A. Patterson, secretary, while the following were elected to serve as directors: Mrs. I. W. Miller, Attorney Homer C. Drake, Dr. H. H. Rosenthal, Ivor Davis, C. B. Hamilton and Russell Allen.

While he will not serve as a director, John Kennedy was elected to the position of treasurer.

Following the election the board discussed regular routine business. Chief among the matters discussed were those concerning the coming G. A. R. Encampment and the matter of making needed repairs to the Legion Home.

When the Grand Army of the Republic assemblies here for their annual encampment this year the Legion Home will be turned over to the veterans solely for their use it was decided.

The house committee, consisting of Chairman Long, Dr. Rosenthal and Ivor Davis were instructed to determine the cost of badly needed improvements and to report their findings at once so that work may be completed before the encampment date.

Card Party Is Planned By Legion

Arrangements have been completed by the members of the Service Star Legion for a card party to be held at the Legion Home Association Building on Thursday evening.

A number of special social features have been planned including door prizes for both men and women. Five hundred and bingo will be played and an invitation is issued to the public to attend.

The committee in charge is composed of Mrs. Jack LaRue, chairlady; Mrs. Harry Allen, Mrs. Lester Wooley, Mrs. Elmer Suber, and Mrs. William Runkle.

Thousand Chickens Are Burned In Fire

(International News Service)
KANE, Pa., Jan. 21. — One chicken out of 1000 escaped death in a fire which swept the poultry section of the Ideal Farms near here today and which did damage estimated at $10,000. Defective heating apparatus in the coops was blamed for the fire.

Further damage to the Ideal Farms, one of the biggest and most modern dairy farms in Northwestern Pennsylvania, was prevented by firemen from Kane when they extinguished the blaze before it spread to other structures a hundred feet away.

State Policeman Elliott On Duty

Private Michael Shuliffe, troop D, state police, who has been detailed here for several months, has started on a two weeks vacation and his place has been taken by Private Ward Elliott, also troop D, Butler. Private Gondell of D troop is in charge of the New Castle station, Jimmy Brooks having been assigned to the Schroeder-Paul case.

SMOKING HEATER CAUSE OF ALARM

Firemen were called to the home of Mrs. P. M. Fleckenstein of 119 N. Mill street at 1:30 this morning, when residents became alarmed over smoke which had filled the lower hall, coming from a furnace in the adjoining building. The man who runs a store next door had banked his fire late in the evening and the smoke escaped from it. He had also left the light burning in the cellar, which could be seen by the neighbors, who asked firemen to investigate.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Be moderate AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*

By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion

Fashion revels in the soft, enchanting curves of the modern figure. Don't sacrifice that graceful contour by permitting your eyes to be bigger than your stomach. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. Eat healthfully but not immoderately. When tempted to treat yourself too well, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, light a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain the modern, alluringly-rounded figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

*Be Moderate! . . . Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

KOTEX is dainty. Kotex is comfortable . . . but the fact that should mean most to you and every woman is this:

Kotex is hygienically safe. It protects health at a time when vitality is low. And it is backed by overwhelming medical preference.

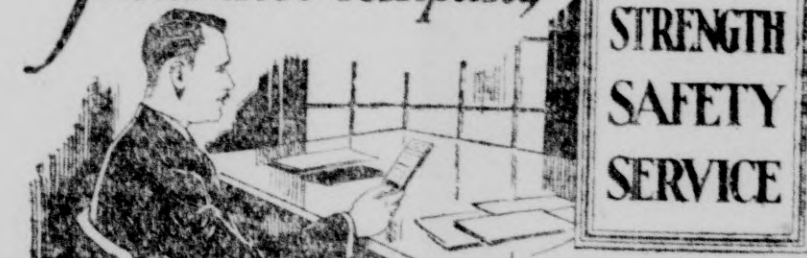

Think of it! Over 85% of America's leading hospitals use Kotex absorbent.

Why Kotex is different

Remember that Kotex is not made of cotton, but of Cellucotton absorbent wadding. Cellucotton is a cellulose product which has 5 times the absorbency of the finest cotton.

BIG DAY FOR BABY BEETLES

Goodness, gracious, what all-of-sudden folks the Tumble-Bugs were.
No sooner had Auntie spoken than the three Tumble-Bugs were at work scratching up the ground with their sharp claws. Peter picked up a sharp stone and ran to help them. And Biffer, who followed Peter's example whenever he could, searched until he found a sturdy stick.

If you've never seen a boy and four beetles dig a hole in the ground you've no idea how fast they can work. Almost before they'd begun there were two deep holes in the ground. And no sooner were the holes the right size than two careful Tumble-Bug mothers rolled the mud balls to the edges of the holes and—ker plunk—the balls rolled in. Then how the dirt did fly.

Very quickly and carefully and so cleverly no one would ever suspect they were there at all—the two mud balls were hidden.

"That's done," remarked Auntie
Tumble-Bug at last, straightening up with a sign of relief. "Now I can take a nap, without further thought for my eggs. Those will stay right where they are until my tiny grubs hatch out."

"What will happen to the grubs down in the cold ground?" asked Peter. "Won't they be afraid in the dark?"

The Tumble-Bugs shook their heads and Biffer chuckled.

"Why should they be afraid?" demanded Auntie. "They will be warm, they will be out of harm's way, there's little mischief they can get into and they'll have plenty to eat. What more can they want until the day when they scratch their way out into the sunlight. But by that time they'll be able to take care of themselves. They will be sturdy little black beetles."

Grove City Plans Hospital Campaign

Civic Organization Endorse Drive For Funds To Sus-tain Institution

GROVE CITY, Jan. 21.—With an unanimous endorsement of civic organizations, the Grove City hospital campaign committees announced the first steps in a financial drive to place the affairs of the Grove City hospital on a firm basis. Plans have been made for the raising of this much needed money and it is expected that they will be carried to a successful ending during the coming months.

Backed by the Grove City Commercial club, the Woman's Civic club and the Hospital Auxiliary, the committee faces a huge task. Solicitation will be confined to one day in the early spring.

The committee is composed of the following: Mrs. B. A. Black, Mrs. P.
W. Daugherty, R. E. English, John
McCune, Jr., and Ted Heilmann.

The goal which will place the affairs of the hospital on a firm basis is $40,000 and the committee hopes that this may be reached.

Monroe will be in charge of the program. The roll call will be "An Island in the Pacific."

MISSION CIRCLE

The Mission Circle of the United Presbyterian church will hold their regular meeting in the home of Miss Hazel Williamson, South Center street, Tuesday at 7:30. A fine program is being planned and at its close a social time will be enjoyed.

Error Is Made In Clock Dimensions

Albert Martin Peterson 201 North Jefferson street, this city in a recent issue of "The News" speaking about our need for a new court house and also including the big clock on the front of the building said in his letter to The News that it should be at least 10 feet, will illuminated and very modern and up-to-date but due to a typographical error the piece read 10 inches which is very incorrect.

The dial of Big Ben on the Parliament building in London is 15 feet in diameter and can be seen for many miles. In the days when the clock was erected it was thought that the dial was plenty big enough but now if they were to erect another one it is altogether likely that they would make it at least 25 feet

MAN CAUGHT ROBBING VATICAN POOR BOX

VATICAN CITY, Jan. 21.—The first sacrilegious theft in the Vatican City state since its constitution was discovered today when the Pontifical gendarmes caught Giuseppe de Paolis, 34, in the act of robbing a poor box beside the altar of the confession at St. Peter's. De Paolis, who was kneeling in a very devout attitude when caught, was using a piece of whalebone to rob the box. He proved to be a man already sought by the Roman police and has been arrested many times for similar pilfering. He was jailed and held for disposition of the Vatican legal authorities.

GIVES BABY HIS CHANCE TO GROW

Mothers Must Build Up Their Strength of Body

Every baby has a right to be well born. It has a right to a healthy parent. No woman has the privilege of neglecting her own body and permitting her blood to be polluted by the absorption of waste products. She should be clean inside as well as out.

No person is clean who suffers from constipation. The waste products of the body must find some way of getting out. If the natural channel is closed the skin, lungs and kidneys are all overworked. Even then the blood becomes foul. When it does, the stomach gives way, or some other part of the body suffers.

A bad situation deserves plain speaking. Every woman who expects to become a mother should have two or three normal bowel movements a day. So should every one else. Nature never intended that waste matter should remain in the body to be re-absorbed into the blood stream, and Nature punishes everybody who allows that condition to exist.

Most constipation is catarrhal in character. Often it is caused by catarrh; sometimes it causes catarrh. No amount of violent purges will relieve this catarrhal condition. They only aggravate it. A treatment of the entire system so that Nature herself can overcome the trouble is the right way. That is one of the reasons why so many people say World's Tonic works wonders in cases of constipation. It not only relieves promptly in most cases, but it helps Nature to remove the cause of the trouble.

Expectant mothers can take World's Tonic without danger, and it is intended to help purify the blood, remove catarrhal manifestations and aid the kidneys in throwing off poisons. When these are done, the baby has many more chances of health than it can have when the mother herself is diseased. Give the youngsters their chance by using World's Tonic, which can be obtained at Eckerd's, McKees, Paisley's, Smith's or any other first class drug store. (A-3)

Church Thronged To Hear Dr. Gamble

Rev. S. C. Gamble, Former New Castle Minister, Attracts Large Crowd

Evangelistic services are in full swing at the Third United Presbyterian church and last night the auditorium was filled by those anxious to hear Rev. S. C. Gamble, who was a former pastor of the Second United Presbyterian church of this place, but who is now located in Butler, Pa. Dr. Gamble presented "Leanness of the Soul" in a forceful manner that brought the lesson deeply to each person. He made a comparison between the way people take care of their bodies and the sparse attention that is given to the soul.

At the "Booster Club" meeting Monday afternoon after school, there were 300 boys and girls. The chorus was then divided into two sides, the boys and the girls, and at the evening service, such a wonderful union of childish voices from 6 to 12 years, has never been heard in the city. H. P. Welsh of Grove City is in charge of this club, which will meet for rehearsal each afternoon after school, as well as the chorus choir, which is offering special music at each service. Mr. and Mrs. Griff Lewis sang a duet at the Monday night service.

Tonight at 7:30 there will be a song service and Rev. S. C. Gamble will again be the speaker.

LOST 14 Pounds of Fat

Finder Is Welcome To Have It—
I'm Mighty Glad To Get Rid of It.

Some folks are naturally fat but there's a lot of people who put on pounds of unhealthy fat because they haven't got enough energy to move about to keep it off.

It's not laziness in most cases—but a condition brought about by sluggishness of the internal organs—the liver, bowels and kidneys. As a result poisons and harmful acids that kill vigor, ambition and energy get into the blood—the whole general tone of the body is lowered and fat accumulates.

Thousands of overcast men and women find in Kruschen Salts a far better means of reducing than by taking baths or drugs. The little daily dose of Kruschen Salts keeps the organs functioning properly every day and fills you with such a feeling of radiant vitality and vigor that before you know it you are fairly "jumping out of your skin" with energy instead of moving around and reduction follows as a matter of course. Get a bottle of Kruschen Salts from Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc. or any good druggist—if it doesn't change your entire idea about reducing, get your money back.

A jar of Kruschen Salts that will last 4 weeks costs but 85c—take a generous half teaspoon in a glass of hot water every morning.

GET THAT KRUSCHEN FEELING
It's the little daily dose that does it.

Mothers, Mix This At Home for a Bad Cough

You'll be pleasantly surprised when you make this simple home mixture and try it for a distressing cough or chest cold. It takes but a moment to mix and costs little, but it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. Pour this into a pint bottle; then fill it with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. The full pint thus made costs no more than a small bottle of ready-made medicine, yet it is much more effective. It is pure, keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

This simple remedy has a remarkable three-fold action. It goes right to the seat of trouble, loosens the germladen phlegm, and soothes away the inflammation. Part of the medicine is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly upon the bronchial tubes and thus helps inwardly to throw off the whole trouble with surprising ease.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

In other words, Kroger customers who purchase at Kroger's this year are getting more food for their money. This is based on the average grocery store in the United States. (This figure is based on Food Price bulletins issued monthly by the U. S. Department of Labor.) A striking example of what you save on your food costs if you resolve to purchase all your foods at Kroger Stores this year.

Monaca Family Goes Into Hiding, Bullets Whiz Through Home

Machine-Gun Salesman Demonstrating To Police Riddles Home With Bullets

(International News Service.) MONACA, Pa., Jan. 21.—The family of Waldo Mengel today have an idea of what it means to be in battle and hear the hum and whizz of machine gun bullets.

It all came about when a Pittsburgh salesman demonstrating a machine gun to Rochester police, across the Ohio river, riddled several houses on this side of the stream.

The Mengel family put in a hurried call for the head of the house and he came home to find them seeking shelter behind furniture.

Answers to questions of information and fact can be obtained by writing to Central Press Bureau, P. O. Box 126, Washington, D. C., and enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope. No answers will be given to marital, medical or legal questions.

In response to many queries on U. S. government, Charles P. Stewart has prepared a comprehensive treatise, "Our Government," covering the organization and functions of the various branches. The booklet contains valuable reference material for both the layman and the student of government. It can be obtained by following instructions below.

One such question is as follows: How much real importance have congressional committees?

The majority's judgment in some committee room, of the senate or house of representatives, for or against a proposed piece of legislation, generally settles its fate. Every bill introduced is referred to the committee deemed most familiar with that particular subject. Inasmuch as its members are supposed to be specialists, their opinion has much weight. If their report is favorable, and the bill is acted on at all, it is likely to pass—although a great many are missed, even after being favorably reported, in the rush of other business. However, the committee can see that this does not occur whenever it is especially interested. On the other hand, an unfavorable report usually is decisive. Or a committee can pigeon-hole a measure it does not like, and then it becomes a matter of great difficulty for its friends to recover possession of it.

What city has the highest homicide rate in the country?
Memphis.

Who is the best paid governor in the United States?

New York's; $25,000 yearly and a rent-free mansion for the governor to live in.

What Illinois district does Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick represent in congress?

Mrs. McCormick and Richard Yates are representatives-at-large. That is, each is chosen by and for the entire state of Illinois.

Would world-wide warmer weather, long continued, effect the ocean's level?

Decidedly, by partially or (if warm enough) wholly melting both polar caps and releasing a vast amount of water. Sea level might thus be raised by a great many feet, submerging much of the dry land of today. Such changes have occurred in past geologic ages.

Did George Arliss act the stage role of Disraeli as well as the movie?

Yes.
(NOTE: Charles P. Stewart's treatise on "Our Government" can be obtained by sending ten cents in coin to Central Press Washington Bureau, P. O. Box 126, Washington, D. C.)

Swick Introduces Pension Bill

250,000 Disabled Veterans
Not Allowed Compensation Must Be Unable To Earn Living

(Special To The News)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 21.—Representative J. Howard Swick has introduced in the House a bill to grant World War service pensions to certain disabled soldiers, sailors and marines who served in the war.

According to figures of the United States Veterans Bureau there are approximately 225,000 disabled veterans not allowed compensation because they have been unable to prove that their disability is the result of their service. Congressman Swick's bill would benefit these men by authorizing the payment of pension to any World War veteran who has become so disabled that he is hindered from earning a living.

To come under the provisions of the Congressman's bill, veteran would have to have served at least ninety days, or less in case at least thirty days were served overseas. The bill would void the necessity of connecting the disability with the service.

The pension under the bill would not exceed fifty dollars per month, nor would they be less than thirty, for disabled veterans not now drawing compensation. No pension now being paid a disabled veteran could be diminished by the bill, but it could be increased.

The Swick bill provides also for pensions to be paid World War veterans when they become aged. When a veteran becomes 62 years of age, disabled or not, he will be eligible for a twenty dollar monthly stipend; at 68, thirty dollars; at 72, forty dollars; and at 75, fifty dollars.

In addition, widows and children under 18 of veterans, who did not die in the service would be eligible for a pension of thirty dollars per month.

Congressman Swick has introduced the bill at the instance of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, with the support also of numerous posts of the American Legion.

Edenburg Man Claims Owner Of Cycle Car Turned Down Lucrative Sum

"I will not sell" is the only reply a certain resident in a nearby city will make when approached relative to the sale of his 40-year-old foreign-made Cycle car, said to have been the first motor car in the city of Louisville, O., Scott Jones of Edenburg R. D. 2 writes The News.

In his letter Mr. Jones asserts that the old-fashioned "motor" vehicle greatly resembles an old-time carriage or open buggy. It has two cylinders, air-cooled and consumes castor oil for lubrication when the owner decides to run it. The antique has a chain drive and is steered by a bar instead of a steering wheel.

The name "Sears" can be found on the body of the car.

Gladys May Parks Threatens Suicide

(International News Service)
CAMDEN, N. J., Jan. 21.—Gladys May Parks threatened to commit suicide Monday shortly after she was sentenced to 25 years in prison for the deaths of Timothy and Dorothy Rogers.

"I won't be in any prison long," she told her keeper while crying in her cell. "They'll take me out in a wooden box."

"I am going to commit suicide with whatever means comes to my hands." She again declared that she would rather have gone to the electric chair than to have been sentenced to prison.

Claims Osgood's Readers Were Better Than Those Published By McGuffey

Mount Pleasant Man Recalls Using School Books Published By New Castle Man

Lucius Osgood, Author Of Note, Was Resident Of New Castle For Many Years

While considerable discussion is being waged over the relative merits of the famous McGuffey Readers, of a few generations ago, there are many who seem to have overlooked the fact that the author of another set of school books, equally as famous lived and died in New Castle.

He was Lucius Osgood who came to New Castle in 1840, at the age of 21, where he taught elocution in the academy at Normal Glen. Subsequently, he moved to Pittsburgh, where he was the principal of the Fourth Ward Public Schools of that city for several years, returning later to New Castle to make his home, passing away here in the home of his father-in-law, Isaac Dickson, on Grant avenue.

A great many people who were residents of New Castle and vicinity years ago, will recall Osgood's Readers. His works were widely published and were used in many of the schools of Western Pennsylvania.

Among those who have lately championed the cause of Lucius Osgood is George W. Fultz, of Mt. Pleasant, Pa. Mr. Fultz claims that Mr. Osgood's works were the best system of school books ever published. Mr. Fultz states that he has copies of Osgood's First, Second, Third, Fourth, and Fifth Readers, and Osgood's Progressive Spelling Book, which are badly worn. He states that he has in his library a copy of Osgood's Third Reader, which though badly torn, no money could buy. It is the same book, he says, that he used 70 years ago.

Mr. Osgood was twice married, both wives being members of prominent New Castle families. His son, Lucius Osgood, was a resident of New Castle until twenty years ago, when with his family, he moved to Johnstown, Pa., where he was manager of the Century Stove Company until his death, May 5, 1928. His step-mother, who had been Miss Violet Dickson of this city, died the same year.

Lucius Osgood, Jr., who was married to Miss Maude Garvin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Garvin of this city, and who is now a resident of Cleveland, O. He had two daughters, Clara, who is now engaged in personnel work with the Halle Brothers

Company of Cleveland, and Jack Osgood, who is engaged in business in Akron.

Mr. Osgood conducted a hardware store in New Castle for a number of years, and was engaged in business on North Mill street, about where Atkinson's Paint and Glass store is now located.

Miss Margaret Garvin, a sister of Mrs. Lucius Osgood, Jr., has a complete set of Mr. Osgood's works, and it is interesting to note that these books are being read from at the program being conducted this afternoon by the Lawrence County Federation of Women's Clubs.

Concerning the life of Lucius Osgood, the following abstract of his death which was published in one of the old New Castle papers at his demise, is reprinted. This does not make mention of the year in which he died, but it is believed to have been around 1880 or a little later.

"Lucius Osgood, the author of the widely known Osgood's American Readers, died on Monday morning, the 7th inst., at the residence of his father-in-law, Isaac Dickson, on Grant avenue. The news of his death was a surprise to everybody outside of the circle of his nearest friends, for, although it was known for some time that he was in feeble health, it was not generally understood that his condition was critical.

"Mr. Osgood was born in Peacham, Vermont, April 15, 1819. His parents were of the oldest Puritan families of New England, his paternal ancestors being descendants from one of the pilgrims who came in the Mayflower. He was essentially a self-made man, his education which he received at the Academy in his native town, being achieved by his own exertions, his widowed mother being unable to give him aid.

"He began teaching at the age of 16 and for several years he taught in the winter time and attended the academy during the summer paying his expenses out of his earnings of the previous winter. How thoroughly he did his work as a student may be inferred from the fact that when he graduated he carried off first honors of his class. He always had a taste for elocution in which art he excelled and it was this preference, no doubt that led him to the publication of his readers, which have attained so great popularity.

"When about 21 years of age he came to New Castle and for a short time, taught elocution in the academy at Normal Glen. Subsequently he moved to Pittsburgh and was the principal of the Fourth ward public schools of that city for several years.

"In 1854 he began to prepare his readers for publication. They were issued from the press a short time afterwards. Of the excellence of these books it is not necessary to speak as they have been used for years in almost every public school in Western Pennsylvania and they received the approval of the foremost educators in the land. The publication of these books was so remunerative that about the year 1860 Mr. Osgood was encouraged to undertake the work of founding a publishing house of which he was the manager. Accordingly he associated himself with Mr. A. H. English and a large building was erected on Fourth avenue, Pittsburgh, and the firm of A. H. English and Company in a short time became the largest school publishers west of the Alleghenies.

"In 1868 the building in which the business was carried on together with the valuable machinery that it contained was destroyed by fire entailing a loss upon the owners of over $50,000. They set to work again to rebuild soon afterwards, Osgood drawing all the plans and superintending the work on the building himself. Affairs seemed to move on prosperously until two or three years ago when financial reverses set in and the accumulation of a busy life was swept away.

"For a number of years prior to his death Mr. Osgood had been in ill health. The first severe sickness of his life took place in 1865 and since that time he was not entirely well.

"Last fall he went to New York to place himself under the treatment of an eminent physician and it seemed for a time that the result would be beneficial but the fondest hopes of friends were not realized.

"Mr. Osgood was married in New Castle in 1847 to Miss Jane Frazier who died in 1871. In 1877 he married Miss Violet Dickson who survives him. He also leaves behind to mourn his loss a son, Lucius about 15 years of age. Mr. Osgood was a man of most exemplary character, an upright, honorable gentleman and true Christian. He was for many years a ruling elder in the First United Presbyterian church of Allegheny city and recently of Dr. Brown's church in this city.

"Death found him fully prepared to leave the world which is certainly better for his having been in it."

No attempt is made to belittle the achievements of William Holmes McGuffey who also published a widely known set of school text books.

While Mr. McGuffey was not a resident of New Castle he made his home near New Bedford in Lawrence county and has relatives residing in Lawrence county to this day.

It is a strange coincidence that two men who were the foremost in their line in their day were residents of the same locality and contributed so much to the early education of a great many residents of this section of the country as well as the nation at large.

Dates Selected For Benefit Show As Hospital Aid

Jameson Memorial Hospital Benefit At Cathedral On March 13 And 14

With the dates of March 13 and 14 definitely set, those in charge of the Jameson Memorial Hospital benefit show to be staged at the Cathedral are hard at work with the many intricate details relative to the operation of the big venture.

There has been splendid cooperation to date between those in charge and the business houses of the city. Donations have been coming in thick and fast. Everybody is behind the move to secure funds for the handsome new hospital.

A few of the donors to date are Owen Penfield Fox, who will handle the scenic paintings; Pete J. Iodice, who will direct the revues part of the show; Dave "Dye" Jones, who will take charge of the minstrel end of the benefit. Both Iodice and Jones put over their respective "loves" last year and they were duly appreciated. The show this year will be bigger and better than ever before.

concert to be given in the near future, at which time the chorus will present Cadman's "Father of Waters" in a dramatization. The different parts are being carefully rehearsed and the people of New Castle are due for a treat when the concert is presented.

year can be doubled and if possible tripled.

The Snyder Piano company has agreed to handle the ticket sale of reserved seats. Many business houses of the city have donated their services to those in charge in aiding to make the stage attractive.

The first meeting of the cast will be held at 2:30 o'clock Sunday. An inspection trip by the cast will be made at the Jameson Memorial hospital. The P. and O. officials have donated their spacious room for rehearsals. The show will be moulded together in short order and everyone will be better perfect when the curtain goes up.

The Castleton Hotel Directors Win Case

Chew Company Settles Furniture Suit Before Trial Gets Under Way

Hotel Company To Pay Face Amount Of Original Contract

At the Lawrence county court house yesterday, the suit of the Chew Furniture Co. of Pittsburgh, against the New Castle Hotel company, in the amount of $100,624.08, was settled by the agreement of the hotel company to pay the Chew Furniture Co. the face amount of the contract which was $81,937.74.

The matter has been in dispute for over two years, following the completion of the Castleton Hotel, for the furnishing of which the Chew Furniture Co. had the contract. The facts in the case appear to be that while the bids for the furnishing were being considered, the Chew Furniture Co. offered to take the contract, and supply the same quantity and quality of furniture and furnishings as was specified in the specifications, at 20% less than the lowest bid.

The project was not a private undertaking, being a community enterprise, in which about 800 local citizens had placed their funds, and the hotel directors were the guardians of a public trust, and responsible to the stockholders, for the economic handling of their money. The 20% discount represented a trifle over $20,000,000 less mortgage money which would have to be secured, and meant that for the life of the hotel, it would have to earn that much less interest on capital invested, in other words, it meant a saving to the stockholders of about $1,200 every year.

Before this contract was entered into, all the local bidders, some twelve in number were called into conference with the hotel directors, and the matter explained, to them, all of them with one exception being subscribers for hotel stock. These bidders with two exceptions advised the directors that they should enter into the contract with the Chew Furniture Co., provided the hotel was properly protected.

Thereupon, the contract was executed, but because of the unusual features which entered into it, very special care was exercised by the directors.

After the completion of the contract, the furniture company claimed bad faith on the part of the hotel company, and sought to repudiate the contract, rendering an invoice for $122,000.00, which was about $40,000 more than the contract.

The hotel company was willing to pay only the face of the contract. The Chew Furniture Co. finally entered suit for $100,624.08, and the case was called for yesterday, Judge Frank L. Harvey being brought here from Clarion to try the case, for the reason that both Judges Hildebrand and Chambers, are stockholders in the Castleton.

After the case had started with the selection of the jury, the parties got together, and it was agreed to settle the case on the basis of the original contract. Under this agreement, the hotel company pays the Chew Furniture Co. $81,937.74 in cash with one year's interest amounting to $4,237.69. The remainder of the amount is paid for with a certificate for $10,000 stock in the hotel, which was the original agreement.

Under the terms of the settlement, the hotel company is paying only what they have been willing to pay for the past two years, namely, the face of the contract.

The directors of the hotel company are G. T. Weingartner, president; O. P. Brown, vice president; P. J. Flaherty, secretary; H. B. Richards, treasurer; A. C. Hoyt, T. F. Morehead, J. K. Love, R. C. Love, Fred L. Rentz, all of this city, and General Leslie Kincaid, of New York.

Pitt Football Boys Rode Death Plane

T. A. T. Plane That Crashed 16 To Death Carried Pitt Gridders Recently

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Jan. 21.—The Mad-dux-T. A. T. plane in which 16 persons met their deaths when it overturned and exploded last Sunday near San Clemente, was the same plane in which members of the University of Pittsburgh football squad took an air journey over the city of Los Angeles. Members of the squad brought back with them their tickets for the ride, autographed by Basil Russell, pilot, and his assistant, Fred Walker. Russell and Walker were among the dead in the fatal crash.

Prayer In Congress

The house met at 12 o'clock noon. The Chaplain, Rev. James Shera Montgomery, D. D., offered the following prayer:

We know in part, but Thou dost not lose in part, our Father—Thou dost reveal Thyself in a way that defies argument. Thou art love, and it resists definition. Only the loving heart can know Thee, O God. Open the way that leads to our moral affections; take our conscience, thought and will and make them all Thine own that we may honor our station and prove our high estate; fortify our very souls and strengthen them for wise and just attainment. Righteousness is not weak and nerveless, but strong and heroic; open unto us its highway, and we shall call its walls salvation and its gates praise, for out of them shall flow the streams of benevolence and justice that sweeten the waters of life. In Thy holy name. Amen.

One explanation of many troubles in America is the fact that any gump can make up an intelligence test his betters can't pass.

Deny Coal Police To Plead Guilty

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Jan. 21.—Reports that a plea of guilty will be made for the three former Coal and Iron policemen who are to go on trial at Franklin, Pa., January 28, charged with involuntary manslaughter in the death of John Borkowski, Tyre miner-farmer, were denied today by Attorneys Edward G. Coll and Charles S. Pritchard, for the defense.

Walter J. Lyster, Harold P. Watts and Frank Shapkas, the defendants, were acquitted of a charge of murder in the same case here in criminal court.

The trial on the manslaughter charges was ordered held in Venango county after defense attorneys appealed to the Supreme court for a change of venue.

Ejectment Action To Secure Property

Robert C. McCowin and wife, Bella McCowin, have issued an action of ejectment at the prothonotary's office against Andrew S. Sampson and his wife, Gertrude Sampson, to secure possession of a property on North street, Sixth ward. It is claimed that an exchange deal was made whereby plaintiff traded the North street property for a farm of 50 acres in Wilmington township but defendants have fallen down on the agreement by failing to turn over the farm.

Well, if 50 million people can't be wrong, let's hear no more criticism of those who hold the middle of the road.

State Farm Products Show Gets Under Way

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Jan. 21.—Agricultural products held the center of the stage today as the State Farm Products Show got away to a flying start promptly at 8 o'clock this morning. Visitors to the show, scurrying hither and thither about the city to the various buildings housing the exhibits, expressed themselves as pleased with the fact that today marks the last opening of the show in rented halls and storehouses. Next year the state's new farm show building, now in the course of construction at a cost of $1,357,000, will be completed.

Approximately one hundred thousand visitors are expected to put in appearance during the show. Some idea of the vast number of exhibits on display can be gained when it is noted that every single inch of the 110,000 square feet of exhibit space has been taken and all of the 4,000 exhibits were in place when the show opened this morning.

One of the most interesting exhibits was Alice, prize Ayrshire cow. Alice drew particular attention of visitors who had learned of her hike from Brandon, Vt., to the National Dairy Show at St. Louis last fall.

Beef Judging Judging of Lebanon county, Dauphin county and Cumberland county baby beavers was to take place today. The programme for the day presented a session crammed with activity. There were to be meetings of the Society of Farm Women, the Pennsylvania Nurserymen's Association, State Association of Markets, Entomological Society, State Horticultural Association, and the Pennsylvania Farm Bureau Association. These meetings will be climaxed tonight with the first joint meeting of twenty-eight statewide farmers' organizations.

All of the exhibits will be closed during the meeting tonight.

Cabinets are not homes for heroes—David Lloyd George.

Last Day To File For Divorce Court

This is the last day on which attorneys can place divorce cases on the list for divorce court set for Friday, February 7th. Judges Hildebrand and Chambers will hear evidence on that date. There are quite a number of applications.

Examine Jail For Signs Of Any Break

Reports were brought to the county commissioners this morning that there were indications that a brick had been loosened near a window on the west wing of the county jail. Commissioner P. O. Elder procured a ladder which was held while Deputy Sheriff William Reynolds made an examination. He found that the brick had not been tampered with, although some rust from the iron overhead had run down over it, giving it the appearance of having been loosened. It was on the same side of the jail where Tom O'Toole made his escape from the county jail many years ago.

Expect Thayer To Take Stand

Architect To Present Own Defense In Bribery Case At Canton, O.

(International News Service) CANTON, O., Jan. 21.—Defense attorneys began to wind up their cross examinations today in the trial of Albert L. Thayer, New Castle, Pa., architect, who is accused of having solicited a $7,500 bribe from George F. S. Melbourne, general contractor of the Molly Stark Tuberculosis Sanitarium. Thayer was expected to take the stand in his own defense late today. His attorneys will seek to show that the accusations were prompted by "vengeful motives" resulting from an enmity between Thayer and Melbourne. The state rested its case yesterday after having produced three witnesses who testified that Melbourne paid Thayer $6,500 of the money sought by the architect in connection with "juggled" specifications in the contract for the hospital.

Partial Taxi-Cab Service Restored To Pittsburghers

Several Drivers Refuse To Go Back To Work; Stone Cabbies Today

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Jan. 21.—The strike which has kept Pittsburghers from using taxicabs for the past 10 days broke out again today following the refusal of part of the striking drivers to accept the compromise settlement proposed to them last night. Some cabs started out from the garages this morning, only to be met with a fusillade of stones presumably thrown by the irate "die-hards." Proprietors of the Green and Yellow Cab Companies announced that strikers will be rehired only until Thursday, after which those still out on strike will be refused jobs.

Extension Gym Class Has Party

New Wilmington Y. W. C. A. Extension Class Enjoys Party Monday Night

Monday night, at New Wilmington, the Y. W. C. A. extension gym class celebrated the last week of the Fall term with a demonstration of class work, followed by a party, at the home of Mrs. Lucy Marquis.

Each class member brought a friend and after the demonstration of class work, the guests were invited to join with the class in an American folk dance, "Yankee Doodle."

Following this, the class members and guests adjourned to the attractive home of Mrs. Marquis. Mrs. Harold Black, a member of the Health committee of the local Y. W. C. A., and Mrs. Ben Euvema, had arranged for entertainment in the form of some most interesting games and novel stunts.

Mrs. Russell Wilson and Mrs. Wallace Pitzer, members of the Gym Council, were directly responsible for all the plans and they, with their assistant, deserve great credit for the success of the affair.

"My trouble began when I was about sixteen years old. My face was covered with pimples and blackheads. The pimples were very hard and the itching was so bad that I used to scratch until they would bleed. Sometimes I had to get up in the night on account of the irritation. amed and in spite of his more or less widely known eccentricity, gave essentially the same story that he had already told many times.

When on the witness stand he was within two feet of the two prisoners, handcuffed together, and it was very noticeable how he constantly kept turning toward them and eyed them. In the course of his testimony he was quite positive in his identification of Grimm as the young man who had relieved him of his money, amounting to 54 cents in all. Cross examination failed to shake his story in the slightest.

There were a number of clashes between the district attorney and the attorneys for the defendants in several instances over certain matters of testimony and defense attorneys and Special Investigator Charles F. Barrett locked horns in regard to the latter's testimony relative to whether or not he and Mr. McAnaney had fully advised Charles Llewellyn and William Grimm of their rights under the law, before they confessed to their part in the murder of Clark Rea.

E. H. Rea, brother of the murdered man, was the first man to testify and stated on questioning by District Attorney John Powers that he had spent all his life in Neshannock township at the scene of the murder.

Tells of Hold-Up

He said he was residing at the place of the murder on January 15 with his brother, Cyrus Clark Rea, and that they had been living together at that place. He said that to get to their farm you went through Coaltown and passed the Painter Hill school house. There were two ash roads, he said.

On the morning he had been working for a man named J. R. Justice and had returned home about noon. He cooked his brother's supper about "half past four o'clock and I never dreamed of what took place afterward," he said.

They both remained there and it was between 7 and 8 o'clock in the evening when the murder occurred. At the request of attorneys for the defense, Rea then described the premises, stating that it was a frame dwelling with two rooms downstairs and three upstairs. It is situated about 200 yards from the main road, he said. There is a large tree that goes down through their property.

When the shooting occurred, they (his brother and himself) were standing at the grate of the living room warming themselves. The shots came through the east window, he said. None came through the west window directly opposite.

As the shots came his brother picked up a chair and threw it at the east window. More shots followed and his brother was struck in the right temple and fell to the floor. He then testified that he picked up his brother and laid him on the bed. Then the young men came into the house.

He started to say that they had ransacked the house and attorneys for the defense objected, stating that they desired something more specific than that.

Points Out Suspect

Rea then stated that they demanded money and when questioned as to who made the demand, he pointed to Grimm, the prisoner nearest him stating that the man who made the demand was light haired.

He was told, he said, that if he didn't, that he would be a dead man. The young man came three in number, he stated, and all had gray caps and gray coats. He said they came in at the window, the glass of which they had beaten out.

They took 54 cents off him and $50 belonging to his brother from in under the pillow of his bed.

Then someone said "Let's beat it" and they went out through the west window of the room. After they left, he had gone out and yelled murder a couple of times and securing no response, he ran to Mr. Cunningham, who came down. They also telephoned to the state police. A couple of state police had come, also the coroner.

His brother was not dead, he said, when the neighbors came but was a short time later. He didn't stay at the house after the body was removed but went to Neighbor Cunningham's.

Its age is a private matter

It is very difficult to discover, by its appearance, how old a Lincoln is. Lincoln believes in making automobiles so beautiful that they are always modern — so durable that they simply won't wear out. The age of a Lincoln is no one's concern — least of all its owner's. On the boulevard a Lincoln of last season and the newest model share honors equally with Lincolns years older than either.

So fine is this car that a year or so of use does not perceptibly detract from any of its splendid qualities. Lincoln owners are often men who own, and do, provide the best professional care for their cars. Sometimes such well-kept cars are available at very attractive prices from Lincoln dealers. The wisdom of investing in such a motor car is quite evident, and the buyers are quick to take advantage of the opportunity.

A few such Lincolns are now to be seen on our floor. Every one is in perfect mechanical condition. We are always glad to demonstrate them to you, without the slightest obligation. Drop in today.

SHENANGO MOTOR CO.

THE LINCOLN

He did not remember of going to town that night. He stated that he was at his brother's funeral and that his brother was buried in Graceland cemetery.

On cross examination he stated that the shooting was all from the outside of the house. He then described the position of the home with regard to direction, also the furnishings, the number of windows and other details concerning the location of the house. He told of seeing a flashlight outside the house but did not know who did the shooting. His brother, he said, was hit by a shot fired from the outside.

His brother, he said, had thrown the chair at the east window. One of the young men came in the east window and two from the west window.

Grimm, he said, pointing to the prisoner as he sat near him, came through the east window with a revolver and a flashlight in his hands. Llewellyn, he said, pointing him out, and another whom he did not know, came in at the other window.

No Shooting in House.
There was no shooting in the house, he stated, and that all had revolvers.

There were three in the house but he did not know who might have been outside. He would not be able to tell who the fourth was, he said. They had on gray caps and coats but he did not notice what kind of shoes they had on. They had blue handkerchiefs over their faces, he said.

He was lying on the floor but he couldn't tell who told him to do so. His head, he said, was to the north corner of the room and his feet to the southwest. His brother was on the floor with his feet to the grate and his head toward the bureau. He was to the left of his brother as they stood at the grate and his brother was struck in the right temple.

Barrett Testifies.
Charles F. Barrett, special investigator for the district attorney, stated that he resided at 1101 East Washington street and told of being in the office of the district attorney on January 17, when Squire Marshall came in. As a result of certain information given by Squire Marshall to the district attorney, he and L. B. McAnaney went out under orders of the district attorney to question certain people, he said.

They first went to the Martin residence on Shadyside and inquired for Jesse Martin. From there they had gone to the Rentz place back of St. Mary's cemetery in Union township.

Coming back into town from there, they had gone to the Nader poolroom on East Washington street and then to the Joyce poolroom a short distance away. They were looking, he said, for Llewellyn, Martin, Grimm and McDevitt and in particular for Grimm and Martin. It was here, he said, that Llewellyn and Grimm were located.

Mr. McAnaney knew William Llewellyn, a brother of Charles Llewellyn, and he asked William Llewellyn where his brother Charles was. The brother pointed to his younger brother at a pool table playing. It was found that the boy playing with Charles Llewellyn was William Grimm. Both were called over and introduced to McAnaney and himself, he testified.

McAnaney told them he had a few questions about which he would like to talk to them and Charles Llewellyn, William Grimm, William Llewellyn, McAnaney and himself got into the machine and were driving and went over onto Falls street near The Castleton hotel.

They entered into a conversation there and after the first serious questions, Grimm began to talk about some furs. "I told him it was not about the furs, but something more serious," said Barrett. McAnaney seated in the rear seat with Llewellyn at his left and Grimm at his right.

Questions asked, Barrett stated, were concerning the whereabouts of Martin, whether they had been in Neshannock township and if they knew anything about the Rea murder. Grimm denied any knowledge of the several questions and tried to turn the conversation to furs.

Tells of Crime

Llewellyn was questioned. He asked what they wanted him to tell. He was told all that was wanted was the truth. He finally, with some hesitation said concerning the Rea murder, "We did it. We were out there. Grim was there. This thing has worried me until I'm sick."

Llewellyn then related how it was done, Barrett said. They had planned the crime, of the intention to do it for some time. Martin suggested that McDevitt was a good fellow to have in on it as he knew how to do it. Martin arranged a meeting with McDevitt on Mill street.

He went into detail, Barrett said, telling of the visit a week previous to the actual crime, of the intention to do the job at that time, but about being frightened away, and other details. On that visit, he said that Grimm and McDevitt were the only ones armed, the former having a .22 calibre revolver and McDevitt a .32 calibre revolver. He and Martin had no guns on this occasion.

He told how on the night of January 14 they met and planned what they would do the following night. They met on January 15, all were armed. Grimm, Llewellyn and Martin having .22 calibre revolvers and McDevitt a .32 calibre revolver. They proceeded to the Rea place sometime between 7:15 and 7:45 p. m. Llewellyn had told the investigators, parked the car on the main road and went to the house, Martin and Grimm going to one window and Llewellyn and McDevitt to the other. He had then told the investigators concerning the plan of crashing the windows, all shooting into the house before entering and of McDevitt, Llewellyn and Grimm entering. Martin remained outside. Before they entered they saw one man fall.

Llewellyn and Grimm had covered the man on the floor and McDevitt the other man. It was McDevitt that ordered E. H. Rea to give up his money. McDevitt had then gone through the pockets of the man on the floor and secured his money.

Then they left, got into their car, hurried to the city, McDevitt going to his home and Martin to his and Llewellyn and Grimm going to the shop and securing Llewellyn's father and had taken him home. McDevitt divided the money on the way in, Grimm and Llewellyn receiving $11 each. When they reached the Llewellyn home, Grimm at the instruction of Llewellyn took the guns, except that of McDevitt, which he retained, from the pocket of the car and placed them in another, first taking out the shells. Grimm told practically the same story, according to Barrett.

was quite spirited as Barrett did not like the suggestion that they had not fully warned the boys before they first talked and after they had made and signed their confessions. He said they had informed the boys they were not officers, also that what they said and did would be used against them in court and that the district attorney had also informed them along the same lines.

Dr. H. E. Zerner, who conducted the post mortem examination, stated that death had been caused by a bullet that entered the brain. He had found the bullet, he said, marked it and turned it over to the coroner. It was a .22 short bullet, he said.

PLYMOUTH, Mass., Jan. 21.—An unusual illness has developed in this town in the case of eight-year-old John C. Nickerson, who has Parinaud's conjunctivitis.

Dr. Allen Greenwood, Boston specialist, who examined the boy, said this was the first case he had seen in 40 years of practice. It is an affection around the eyes, contracted from handling an animal's fur.

John thinks he caught it when he carried a live muskrat home and the animal's fur brushed his face.

Dinner-Dance For Graduates

Custom Abandoned For Grand Frolic At Scottish
Rite Cathedral

Expect 150 Seniors To Share
Entertainment; Program
Is Announced

Seniors of the mid-year class of the local senior high school will venture into something new when they stage their scheduled dinner-dance program at the Cathedral on Thursday evening, January 23 in the place of the traditional class night performance which has featured nearly every past commencement.

Elaborate plans are being completed today and hopes are entertained for making the affair one of the most successful class events ever held by a class of senior high graduates according to the president, Jack White. While the evening class night program will be eliminated because of this it was the intent nevertheless to sponsor something much similar in the senior chapel service on Tuesday morning.

One hundred seniors are expected to be present for the dinner and program on Thursday night. Courses will alternate with the program of singing and dancing. The starting hour has been set for 6:30.

The program for the evening follows:

Presiding will be Jack White president of the class.
Alma Mater.
Toast to the Seniors—Dr. C. C. Green.

First Course.
Tap dance by Miss Maxine Bolard and Miss Dorothy Sankay.
Singing by everybody.

Second Course.
Dancing for everybody.
Specialty songs by Sam McCleary.

Third Course.
Dancing for everybody.
Solo dance by Miss Nellie Brady.

Last Course.
Singing by crowd.

Donors—David Ritchie head donor with Miss Helen Weingartner and Merwyn Johns assistants.

NEW STUDENTS PLAN TO ENROLL

Second Semester To Start At Westminster During Coming Week

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 21.—Dr. J. A. Swindler, registrar at Westminster, has announced that registration of new students for the second semester in the college has been facilitated by a conference with the heads of the various college departments.

Beginning courses for freshmen students will be offered in English, mathematics, history and science so that the graduates of high schools at the midyear will be able to enroll in the college now instead of waiting until next September.

Graduate Manager A. A. McDonald who has charge of student canvas has visited a number of high schools in Lawrence, Mercer and Butler counties within the last two weeks recruiting students and reports that a number will enroll next week.

GARAGE MAN FINDS KONJOLA BEST MEDICINE

New And Different Compound
Quickly Relieves Severe Stomach
And Liver Ailments.

MR. EARL CARR

"I suffered terribly from indigestion," said Mr. Earl Carr, 1815 West Fourteenth street, Erie, Pa. "Gases, forming after meals, so bloated me that I could scarcely breathe and the pain was often frightful. My liver was sluggish and bilious spells caused me blinding headaches for hours at a time. The pain from weakened kidneys made sleep impossible and my general health was in such a state that I could scarcely do my work. I tried medicine after medicine but nothing helped me. It required but four bottles of Konjola to put me back on my feet. Gas no longer forms after meals and my appetite is back to normal again. My liver functions properly and bilious attacks are a thing of the past. I never have those splitting headaches now. My kidneys are normal and I sleep as well as I ever did. Food and rest have restored my strength and I am a new man. I owe all this to Konjola and wish to heartily endorse this great medicine."

Konjola is sold in New Castle at Love & Megown drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

GET WASTE OUT OF YOUR SYSTEM

Banish Constipation at the Start with Kellogg's
ALL-BRAN

Look out when you wake up tired and stay tired. Beware of headaches, unpleasant breath. These are usually the first symptoms of constipation.

The trouble is that your intestinal system is clogged. You have eaten too many bulkless foods. But you can clean your system safely, if you start at once to eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a cereal that you can eat naturally. It sweeps the intestines clean of poisonous wastes. Far better than habit-forming pills and drugs.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily—recurring cases with every meal. You'll like its crispness and flavor. Your system will benefit by its rich store of iron and healthful elements as well as by its roughage.

Ready-to-eat with milk or cream. Delicious with fruits and honey added. Use it in cooking. Recipes are on the package for muffins and griddle cakes. Sold by all grocers. Served by hotels, restaurants and dining-cars. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Final Exams Under Way At Westminster

Collegians Are Concluding Work
Of First Semester This Week

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 21.—First semester final examinations started at Westminster College Monday. The final tests will be given each day this week until Friday when a few afternoon classes will be tested.

The examinations are three hours in duration, starting at 9 and running until 12 each morning, and starting at 1:30 and running until 4:30 each afternoon.

First semester grades are due in the office of the registrar at noon next Monday, so the professors will have to work during the week to get the percentages compiled. On Saturday there are no college classes or other activities, but the varsity basketball team will be considerably active down at Wellsburg, W. Va., where Bethany will be met.

Second semester registration starts next Monday afternoon. Registration will continue on Tuesday of next week and classes will not get under way until Wednesday. A number of mid-year graduates of high schools, a number of former students who were not registered during the first semester, and some college graduates seeking teachers' courses will increase the enrollment for the second semester.

A group of 70 seniors will leave next Monday for New Castle, Sharon, and Pittsburgh where they will spend one month as kadet teachers to fulfill state requirements for teachers' certificates.

Aeronautic Radio Is Aid In Flying

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Cooperation between government and industrial scientists looking to perfection of aeronautic radio, to increase safety of commercial flying, was urged Monday by Assistant Secretary of Commerce Clarence M. Young.

An aeronautic liaison committee on radio research headed by Harry H. Bloch, director of aeronautic development, and including Herbert Hoover, Jr., son of the president, was announced.

This committee will make a survey of the governmental and industrial research which is seeking to overcome the obstacles standing in the way of the highest degree of safety and reliability in air transportation.

Still In Infancy.
"The past few years have witnessed substantial progress in the application of radio to aeronautics, but aeronautic radio is still in its infancy," Young said.

"Spurred on by a realization of the need of further development in this field, private and government organizations have carried on extensive research."

In an endeavor to assist in the focusing this work upon the early solution of the most pressing problems, with the minimum duplication of effort the department of commerce has organized the survey committee. Its findings will be reported to Secretary of Commerce Lamont with recommendations for action.

To Continue Meetings.
It was planned after the committee has completed its initial survey and report that it shall continue to meet three or four times a year in order that those interested may be kept advised as to the progress being made in aeronautic radio research and take advantage of developments and programs the committee may bring forward.

The government's radio research applied to aeronautics has developed many important devices to add to the safety of flying and make night and fog flying possible. The bureau of standards, which is represented on the committee by Dr. J. H. Dellinger, chief of the radio laboratory, has a continuing study of radio beacons, air-to-ground receiving and sending sets, and other devices.

Among the organizations represented on the committee are the aeronautical chamber of commerce, for which Hoover appears, the radio manufacturers association, national committee for aeronautics, army air corps, institute of radio engineers, American air transport association and national electric manufacturers association.

Three Probes Of Airplane Crash Are Under Way

Three Separate Agencies Investigate Crashing Of Maddux
Liner In California

By TOD BATES

I. N. S. Special Correspondent.

OCEANSIDE, Cal., Jan. 21.—Flaming death that rode on the wings of T. A. T.—Maddux lines all metal airplane No. 15 Sunday night and burned 14 passengers and two pilots to death drew hundreds of persons here Monday as three official investigations were begun to determine the cause of the catastrophe that came as the levathan of the air was winging its way from Agua Caliente, the Mexican Monte Carlo, toward Los Angeles.

After preliminary investigations and viewing the wreckage, officials of the aviation company admitted they were puzzled as to the exact cause of the crash.

Six Students Complete Work At Westminster

(Special To The News)
NEW WESTMINSTER, Pa., Jan. 21.—Six members of the senior class at Westminster will complete their work at the end of this week and will leave college, returning June 3 for the graduation exercises. Of the group, some have completed the four-year course in three and one-half years, while others missed a semester during their course and made the work up.

The six who leave this week are: Tudor Lewis, Farrell; Elizabeth Wallace, New Castle; R. Graham Fithian, Butler; Clifford Collins, Sharon; Frederick Mussman, Margaretville, N. Y.; and Milton Boos, Buffalo, N. Y.

PRINCETON

Lux Toilet Soap cares for the loveliest complexions in the world

You can keep your skin exquisitely smooth just as 9 out of 10 glamorous screen stars do . . .

LONG ago our own charming Hollywood stars discovered that for attractiveness a girl must have soft, smooth skin—and discovered that Lux Toilet Soap keeps the skin at its very loveliest.

Then the famous Broadway stage stars became equally enthusiastic about this delicately fragrant white soap. Never have they been more grateful to it than since so many of them are playing in the talkies!

And now—in France, in England, in Germany—the European screen stars have adopted Lux Toilet Soap.

In Hollywood Alone

511 Lovely Actresses Use It

Every girl who appears under the blaze of the great close-up lights must have flawless skin. And the talkies have so many, many close-ups!

In Hollywood alone, of the 521 important actresses, including all stars, 511 are devoted to Lux Toilet Soap. And every one of the great film studios has made it the official soap for their dressing rooms.

At the request of the Broadway stage stars, it has been placed in their dressing rooms by 71 of the 74 legitimate theaters, and by other leading theaters all over the country.

"No girl can be attractive unless she has the very loveliest skin." This is the conclusion of 45 leading Hollywood directors who pick the girls who will most surely win popularity on the screen.

Small wonder, then, that Lux Toilet Soap has become the chosen soap of the world's most famous stars!

If you aren't already using this delightful soap, order several cakes—today. Its caressing lather will keep your skin lovely, just as it keeps the skin of the famous stars.

HIGHLIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

Progress In The Philippines

UNDER THE EFFICIENT ADMINISTRATION OF THE AMERICANS THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS RECOVERED RAPIDLY FROM THE EFFECTS OF THE WAR. AMERICAN BUSINESS METHODS AND UP-TO-DATE AGRICULTURAL MACHINERY WERE INTRODUCED AND TRADE AND INDUSTRY INCREASED BY LEAPS AND BOUNDS. THIS PROGRESS WAS AIDED BY THE BUILDING OF ROADS AND BRIDGES AND THE IMPROVEMENT OF HARBORS AND RIVERS.

THE SPANISH FRIARS, WHO UNDER THE SPANISH REGIME HAD HELD VAST TRACTS (400,000 ACRES) OF THE BEST LANDS, HAD BEEN DISPOSSESSED BY THE INSURGENTS. THE FRIARS NOW SOUGHT TO RECOVER THEIR PROPERTY. FILIPINOS HAD SETTLED ON THE CHURCH LANDS. THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT SOLVED THE PROBLEM BY BUYING THE LAND FROM THE FRIARS FOR $7,200,000 AND SELLING IT TO THE NATIVES ON EASY TERMS.

ONE OF THE FIRST STEPS TAKEN BY THE AMERICANS WAS THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A SYSTEM OF MODERN EDUCATION IN THE ISLANDS. HUNDREDS OF TEACHERS WERE SENT TO THE PHILIPPINES, SCHOOLS WERE OPENED, AND SOON THE YOUNG FILIPINOS WERE BEING TAUGHT TO READ AND WRITE.

THE WORK OF TAKING A CENSUS WAS COMPLETED IN 1906. IT SHOWED THAT THE PHILIPPINES HAD A POPULATION OF 7,635,426, OF WHOM 647,740 WERE SAVAGE "HEAD-HUNTERS". TOMORROW—THE MASSACRE AT BALANGIGA.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Promptly with the arrival of the steamship Homeric tomorrow morning, they are going to send the old masonry in on a built-up that will make old Barnum reach up and kick the epitaph off his tombstone. They are going to take something that looks like a golf tee and try to run it into a momentary inspiration for this ambitious promoter to move on down the block. It's worth that to make him stay away and by a similar token, a lot of people will figure they are getting by cheaply enough at forty dollars, if they see Phil Scott liked by Jack Sharkey at Miami. Scott is going to be the first fighter in history to cash on the public's belief that he can't fight. They think he is sure to be liked; all right, they want to be there to see it done.

$400,000 Gate
This is one of the factors that probably will produce a $400,000 gate when Sharkey and Scott fight this semi-final of the heavyweight championship on the night of the next month. The other factors may be listed under one head, known to the trade as "heat." This is the thing that is blown on the corpse, causing it to expand and take life.

The blower-plant at Madison Square Garden is not what it was since Rickard passed on but it won't miss the fact that Sharkey and Scott are the first American and British heavyweight champions to meet in a ring since the Corbett-Mitchell fight, almost forty years ago. That always gets them. They would go with a rush to see a British champion who can fight but that's the only thing that will intrigue them more than the supposition that the British champion is particularly a British champion who is far from popular. In a case like this, the 100 per cent American gorge rises and you give three cheers for the red, white and blue in a very outstanding manner.

Winner To Get Chance
The fact that the winner of this fight will go in there for the championship next time out won't be overlooked either. They will manage to make this circumstance vivid with impending drama and, at that, I'm not so certain it won't be. Anyhow, once these facts are sufficiently impressed upon a winter cold that is not especially lightwinded it will make you enthusiastic and not to be seen at the ringside when the going sounds. After this happens, you are lost and so is your forty dollars.

Much of course depends on the success of the winter season in Florida and, to date, this has been reported as being better than expected. In view of the late unpleasantness in Wall Street, if the winter cold is really there, it will go to the prize fight, just for the sake of killing an idle evening. The forty dollars will be only an incident to people who drop hundreds at the track and casino with a negligent shrug. Of course, if you drop too many hundreds, it is possible to reach a point where you can't drop enough in the coin boxes to keep the subway people satisfied but the man who spends his winters at Palm Beach and Miami always could beat this racket. He never rides in the subway, anyhow.

Sam H. McGoun Is Assistant Manager

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Jan. 21.—Among the 300 candidates for Penn State winter sports are two men from the extreme western section of the state John B. Wahl of Beaver Falls is a candidate for the 175-pound division on the wrestling team and Samuel H. McGoun of New Castle is a second assistant manager of the boxing team. Both boys are sophomores. Wahl was a member of the football squad during the past season and is one of a half dozen griders now trying their hand at the wrestling game.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

By ED. FRITZ

Lloyd Warner, Pirate, yesterday underwent an operation for removal of his appendix. The operation was performed at Pittsburgh.

Francis Flynn of Pittsburgh has a good bout on his hands but no place to stage it. It is the Goodman-Strub tilt, written in another column on this page. The city of Pittsburgh has condemned the Coliseum. If Flynn don't want to stage the battle some other promoter will come along as it should prove one of the best bouts of the year in the Tri-state section.

Dr. Alfred E. Bull, prominent figure in football and rowing at the University of Pennsylvania, 30 years ago, died yesterday at Wilkes-Barre. He was engaged in dentistry and was 63 years of age. He graduated from Penn in 1895.

Leonard Seppala, Alaskan driver yesterday won the first leg of the Lake Placid club sled dog derby at Lake Placid, N. Y. He put his team over the finish line of a 12 mile course in 57 minutes 4 seconds with all the dogs still in harness.

Hugo Bezdek, football and baseball coach at Penn State has resigned to assume directorship of a new school of physical education and athletics at the college. It was reported from Harrisburg today. His action was voluntary. He will have a voice in the selection of his successor.

Ed Dudley of Wilmington, Del., yesterday shot par 71 gold to put himself in a one stroke lead over 115 starters in the Aqua Cliente $25,000 open golf tournament in Aqua Caliente, Calif. MacDonald Smith of Long Island, followed with a 72.

Quite a crowd from Oil City and Franklin are expected here Monday night to witness the clash between Indian Tiger West and Henry Phipps. Phipps has won two bouts at Oil City and West took decisions in Oil City and Franklin. One party, it is said, will consist of at least 20 ringiders.

Joe Dinger, local 150 pounder, has gone to California. Dinger hails from DuBois, Pa.

Frey And Zibby To Battle Foes

Local Pugilists To Get Chance To Make Good Next Monday Night

INDIAN MAY TRIM DUNN'S PROTEGE

Although fans have been anxiously awaiting for someone to come along and punch Henry Phipps to sleep many have tried and failed to accomplish the trick but on Monday next Indian Tiger West Arizona middleweight, hopes to be the first. Phipps is training at Monessen, Pa. and Phipps is overhauling at Dunn's gym in Cleveland.

While the Phipps-West engagement is considered as the principal set, the semi-final between Howard Mayberry of McKeesport and Johnny Williams, Philadelphia, should be as good a main bout. Mayberry, a former New Castle boxer, has met practically all the topnotchers and Willie is nobody's slouch. They have outgrown the bantamweight class and have agreed to battle at 124 pounds.

There are two newcomers on the card and both are from New Castle. They are Frankie Frey and Young Zibby. Smith and Daggett, pugilists exploitation men, are behind the pair. Frey and Zibby will clash with Charlie Selman also of Erie.

Pauline Refuses Preliminary Spot

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—The good citizens of Miami and thereabouts will have to get along through another citrus season without seeing Mr. Paulino Uzcudun in action, it was decided today.

Paulino, told that he might battle Jim Maloney of Boston in one of the acts leading up to the grand finale of Paul Seel's new rock Sharkey on February 27 stamped his feet, danced a Spanish fandango and clipped his gold teeth like castanets.

Then he told the promoters he would "not play second fiddle to Scott" and snapped his long Spanish fingers in disdain.

Billy Gibson, manager of the Basque, was rather dejected.

"I had my heart set on a vacation under the palms," explained Gibson.

Von Porat Desires To Battle Paulino

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—Provided Paulino Uzcudun consents to a return match, Otto Von Porat, Norwegian heavyweight contender will face the Basque in the stadium ring here early in March, it was announced today.

Von Porat has signified his willingness to sign for the bout should Paulino acquiesce, he has announced.

A free land is one where any law you don't like is merely an effort of meddlesome neighbors to boss you.

AN EVENING TOGETHER

Three Good Games On Y.M.C.A. Court In Two Circuits

Temple Israel, Croton M. E., And Boosters Take Victories Monday Night

Three fast games were played at the Y. M. C. A. floor on Monday night. Two games in the church league and one in the city league.

In the first game of the bill the Temple Israel team handed the Third U. P. boys a setback, 19 to 14, in a well played game. At the half the Temples through the fine work of Davids, Plant and Rogovin were ahead 10 to 8. In the final half Eph Solomon came to bat with three buckets and the game was on "ice". The Third U. P. team was held to seven field goals. The Temples had eight buckets, but were the best foul shooters. The Third U. P. failed to score from the foul line in eight tries.

The Croton M. E. team took the First M. E. passers into camp with a score of 28 to 13. At the end of the first half with Colaluca and Benninghoff playing good basketball the Crotonites tied the First M. E. team at 10-10. In the final half of the game the Methodists broke a leg while the Croton team went out and secured the big gun, having three buckets. Colaluca and Llewellyn also played good basketball. McCoy and Eckert were the best for the losers.

Boosters Win Again.
The New Castle Boosters won in a walk over the "Y" Seniors in the city league engagement. At the end of the half the Boosters led 20 to 3 and there was never much comprehension over the outcome. All of the Booster team had an "on" night, with Franklin, El Lockey and Uhle caging five field goals apiece. Alexander and Sid Lockey turned in two and four respectively. For the Seniors the work of Mailelli was the best with two buckets. The Boosters merely strengthened their lead on first place by the victory last night.

Ellwood Hi Next Basketball Foes

Ellwood City High Plays Here On Wednesday Night, Girls In Prelim

Tomorrow night is the night when two local rivals in sports meet. The New Castle high basketball team and the Ellwood City lads are the two principals. These two teams will battle in a floor contest at Senior high gymnasium at 8:15 Wednesday. A preliminary game between the New Castle high maidens and the Ellwood City lassies will be played.

The boys' game will be a Section Three league game of the W. P. I. A. L. of which New Castle is the leader as a result of their win over the Evans City quintet last Saturday.

Plans Made For Chicken Dinner At Hillsville

Lawrence County League Baseball Players And Fans To Dine At Hillsville

At an important meeting of the officials of the Lawrence County League last night, at the Sporting Goods store, it was decided that the first get-together of the year will be held at Hillsville on Thursday night, January 30. The event will be a chicken dinner and smoker. Plans for the coming baseball season will be discussed.

Patsy Colucci and Nick Navvare, two energetic young men of Hillsville appeared before the high moguls of the circuit last night and in a graceful manner extended to the league an invitation to Hillsville next Thursday night, where steaming plates of red-hot chicken will await them. If you think the invitation was not accepted guess again.

The dinner-smoker is open to all Lawrence County League players and managers and fans.

There is also to be an entertainment following the dinner, with the Hillsville boys promising something big in the way of genuine amusement.

Amateur Floor Notes

The Carnegie Midgets tucked away another victory last night by topping the Lawrence Five Midgets 18 to 12, in a game played at the Carnegie Auditorium. The Shleeds coached machine staged a second half rally to win the game, one of the best played on the Carnegie floor this year.

Captain Vigall and Nigro featured for the winners, with Duncho and Baker the best for the losers. Manager R. Viggiano would like to book games with any undefeated midget teams in the city or county. Call 2167-J for games.

Connie Mack Looks For Team To Repeat

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 21.—Connie Mack, the tall genial manager of the World Champion Athletics, predicted a much closer race in the American league this season than last but declared his team "ought to win again," as he stepped on board a train here Monday for Florida.

Asked point-blank if he thought his team would win the pennant again Mack refused to give a yes or no answer.

Hard to Answer
"The training season hasn't even started yet," he replied. "That is a hard question to answer."
"I believe the Athletics will repeat," he finally admitted when pressed again for an answer. If they don't, I will be very much disappointed. We have the same team and ought to come through."

"I do look for a stronger race than last season," he added. "The other clubs have improved and I expect more competition, but I believe the A's should withstand the opposition and win the flag."

The grey-thatched veteran revealed that every player whose contract expired with the close of last season's play had been mailed a contract "the

Sure Way to Get Rid of Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. Then you destroy it entirely.

To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

California Man Buys Boston Team

Boston Red Sox Will Have New Owner And New Manager For 1930 Season

(International News Service) OAKLAND, Cal., Jan. 21.—A bigger and better year in baseball was forecast today for the Boston Red Sox by Thomas Turner, president of the Portland club of the Pacific Coast baseball league, following announcement that he is to purchase the Boston club.

Although he declined to disclose how far the transaction has progressed, Turner last night announced that he will be the new owner of the American League club.

Turner has planned a number of changes for the club, it is said. No purchase figure has yet been named. Henry Wagner was recently named manager of the club.

White Sox Sign Kelly As Coach

(International News Service) CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—With the appointment of Mike Barnes Kelly of Spartansburg, S. C., as head coach of the Chicago White Sox, Manager Donie Bush today announced complete plans for the club's spring training.

According to Bush, Smead, Jolley, San Francisco, probably will play left field for the Sox instead of right, the position he was originally scheduled for.

Kelly, the new coach, comes to the White Sox from the Spartansburg club of the South Atlantic League which he has piloted for the past nine years.

Hugo Bezdek Quits As State Coach

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Jan. 21.—Hugo Bezdek, for many years football coach at Penn State, will retire July 1 from active coaching to assume directorship of a new school of education and athletics at the college. His successor has not been named.

MIDDLEWEIGHT—MICKEY WALKER
WELTERWEIGHT—JIMMY McLARNIN
LIGHTWEIGHT—AL SINGER
JR. LIGHTWEIGHT—BENNY BASS

BANTAMWEIGHT—AL BROWN
FLYWEIGHT—PABLO DANO

"Babyface" McLARNIN—COLORFUL AND TERRIFIC PUNCHING WARRIOR—ONE OF THE BEST IN MODERN RING HISTORY.

Al Singer, WHOSE 1929 RECORD EQUALS McLARNIN'S.

Recent ratings of the Sport Bug's favorite fighters in boxing's various divisions prompt the idea of naming an All-Star Fistic team which it is believed could defeat by a wide margin any other similar group that might be picked from active ring stars. This is more than an All-Star American team; its members are either world's champions or that potentially.

Jack Sharkey has yet to win official recognition as world's heavy-weight king but unquestionably he has been that since Gene Tunney retired. Max Schmeling, Otto Von Porat or even Tuffy Griffiths may change that situation this year but those who know Sharkey insist his eclipse is unlikely.

Since the Sport Bug prefers to consider Mickey Walker as middle-weight championship Maxie Rosenblum—fresh from his victory over Leo Lomski—is chosen as our light-heavy representative and logical successor to Tommy Loughran who resigned that championship last summer to make an ill-fated grab at Sharkey's heavy coronet.

Walker is an ideal master of the middle. Dave Shadle casting the only shadow athwart the Jersey boy's throne with young Harry Ebbets coming fast as a future menace to Mickey.

The Sport Bug prefers Jimmy McLarnin to Champion Jackie Field among the welters. "Baby Face" was one of the ring's three best attractions in 1929. Mickey Walker and Al Singer being the other two. That trio either stopped their opponents dead or trounced them so decisively as to leave no question of mastery untitled. McLarnin has become so good that Field's pilot may evade a match with Jimmy though if they do clash and the champion has not slipped much he may prove good enough to outpoint the contender terrific hitter though the latter is. But the Sport Bug tags McLarnin as favorite welter right now.

Many will object because we prefer Al Singer to Champion Sammy Mandell as our lightweight favorite but—since we judge both to be about equally matched in ring class—we favor the harder puncher. Singer's sock is of 4-calibre compared to Sammy's 32 and he's our choice.

Though the New York ring rulers abolished the junior lightweight class following the spectacular but suspicious K. O. of Tod Morgan by Benny Bass the latter is really of championship quality and so we put that annulled champion on our boxing team. Likewise the Sport Bug would have Father Earl Mastro, Bantam Al Brown and Flyweight Dano on this fistic fireworks outfit. They all have punch pep, popularity and definite championship class with or without official titles.

Clyde Gibson, in re: Petition for Disbarment As An Attorney-At-Law. In The Court of Common Pleas of Lawrence County, Pennsylvania, No. 21 March Term, 1936 M. D.
January 15, 1936, Petition of Lawrence County Bar Association filed, wherein it sets forth that Clyde Gibson while acting in his capacity as an Attorney-at-law, a member of the Lawrence County Bar and as Attorney for divers persons, received several sums of money from such persons for the purposes in such petition set forth, but in violation of the terms of the several agreements under which he received the said several sums of money, he applied the same to his own use and that he, the said Clyde Gibson, has misbehaved in his office as Attorney-at-law and violated his oath of office as an Attorney to behave himself with good fidelity as to the Court as to the client, and praying that said Clyde be removed from his office as an Attorney, and that his name be stricken from the list and roll of Attorneys-at-law.

Whereupon the Court made the following order:
Now, January 18, 1936, the foregoing petition presented in open court and upon consideration the same is entertained and directed to be filed and rule is directed to issue to the said Clyde Gibson to show cause why the petition of the petition should not be granted. Service of rule to be made personally upon the said Clyde Gibson if he can be found in this County. If he cannot be so found to be served by publication in the New Castle News a newspaper of general circulation in Lawrence County once a week for three successive weeks. Returnable to the first Monday of March, 1936.

HIS COURT HOUSE IDEAS

Eustis, Fla., Jan. 16, 1936.

Mr. George W. Conway, Editor of New Castle News, New Castle, Pa.

Dear Friend Conway:

I notice the different attorneys' opinions about a new court house, but fail to see wherein that is going to provide us with anything better. We have an old, antiquated, small-town court house to correspond with our railroad depots.

Why down in Florida, they go ahead and build them and get the benefit of their size while they are paying for them, which we should do. Oh, yes! We go ahead and elect a bunch of county commissioners who spend the county's money building bridges where they are of no more use than if they would put up pens to keep our jackrabbits in. I think the sensible thing for the city and county to do would be to go ahead and build one building together, that the citizens would be proud of. As to the site, New Castle has several good locations.

For instance, Grant and Jefferson streets. Tear down those old buildings that should have been torn down years ago, where the school house still stands or the other corner, owned by our friend Dana, and of course there are several other good sites.

The building could be erected while the business of both city and county is being carried on where it now is. The talk has been going on about the need of new buildings ever since I came to New Castle and will continue to go on after these poor lawyers have gone where other as good lawyers that talked just as they are.

Of course it is not for me to say where the others have gone, but unless some of the ones that are talking now, mend their ways, I could make a good guess where they went to.

Yours as ever,
WILLIAM M. WHITE, P. O. Box 22, Eustis, Fla.

P. S.—Am sending you a picture of a real court house devoted to city and county business in Miami, Fla. It is 15 stories high. We get The News the second day after it is printed and would sooner do with but two meals a day than do without it.

W. M. W.

Warrant For Bank Employee

Federal Court Warrant On Embezzlement Charge Against Local Man

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 21.—A bench warrant had been issued in Federal court here today for the arrest of George Kimball, of New Castle, on charges of embezzling funds while employed by the Lawrence County National Bank in that city.

The indictment returned by the grand jury here charges that Kimball embezzled $2,301 of the bank's funds while he was connected with the institution. Bank examiners had been going over the books for some time and the indictment resulted from the findings disclosed during the investigation.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Little Price Change In Early Transactions

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Industrial stocks on the big board this morning went through the usual motions without arriving at any particular destination. Radio was under the hammer as the new sessions swung into action, and dropped to a new low for this year at 34. Radio Keith Orpheum meanwhile pushing ahead about a point to 25 1/2. Switching from Radio into the new amusement stock was cited as the chief reason for their contrary market movements.

American Zinc, Collins and Aikman and a few other low-priced specialties were able to continue the very modest upward movement which started yesterday morning. Paramount was up a point at 55 1/2. The mercantile stocks, including Sears Roebuck and Montgomery Ward were under pressure and sold off fractionally. The

Manufacturers To Meet Mayor

First Of Mayor's Local Business And Labor Aid Meetings Tonight

MANUFACTURERS ONLY TO ATTEND MEETING

Local manufacturers, Mayor Gillespie and councilmen will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the mayor's private office for the purpose of discussing some kind of a program by which business and labor conditions here can be improved.

Some days ago the city's chief executive proposed the session to councilmanic colleagues and the latter deemed the plan one which should be carried out.

The session tonight is for manufacturers only as two other meetings are to be held. One will be between the mayor, councilmen, contractors and the third with men representing financial interests.

Methodists Hear Rev. W. E. Hammaker

Preaching Mission Being Held This Week In First Methodist Church

A crowded auditorium greeted Dr. W. E. Hammaker Monday evening when the preaching mission opened at the First Methodist church. He brought a spiritual message to all present and used the parable in Luke 15 as his text. He stated that Christ had come to earth to save the lost and our mission on earth was to help restore lost souls to the Kingdom of God.

The choir of the First Methodist church furnished the music at Monday night's service and Samuel Lewis, who was in charge, rendered a solo. This morning Dr. Hammaker spoke to about 50 ministers and interested laymen on "The Holy Spirit" and Methodist ministers from all over the New Castle district as well as some visiting ministers from other denominations heard his message. He will speak again to the ministers Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

This evening at 7:30 Dr. Hammaker will deliver another of his preaching mission sermons and the choir of the Croton Avenue Methodist church will render special music.

Man Fatally Hurt In Auto Accident

(International News Service) ALTOONA, Pa., Jan. 21.—Ernest Acker, 21, of Martinsburg, a farm hand, died today from injuries suffered when thrown through the windshield of a truck which was forced off the highway at Lysburg, near here. The truck was wrecked.

Acker suffered a fractured skull and lacerations that required 25 stitches to close.

McKeown Returns To Cashier Duties

W. C. McKeown, cashier of the local branch of the Penn-Ohio system, has returned to his duties following a several months' health trip to Rock Lodge, Fla.

During his trip to the sunny south Mr. McKeown enjoyed the country and fished considerably in Indian river which courses by the town.

The section where he stayed is noted for its fruit, principally bananas, oranges, citrus and grapefruit.

United States Near Naval Agreement

By PIERCE MILLER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The United States and Great Britain came within 23,000 tons of reaching a complete accord on naval parity in their preliminary negotiations for the London naval reduction conference. It was learned here today on high authority that the face to face session of President Hoover and Premier MacDonald, American and British diplomats and naval authorities negotiated a tentative agenda for the conference in which a complete accord was reached on all but the cruiser strength of each country. It was said. On that point, the Americans demanded three more 10,000 ton cruisers than the British were willing to allow. This point still remains unsettled as the two delegations gather with the diplomats of other nations in London.

In all, the United States asked for 21 new fast 10,000 ton cruisers to place its navy on a parity with the British cruiser strength. The British countered by agreeing to let America possess 18 fast 10,000 ton cruisers. When this disagreement first arose, it was said, President Hoover promptly showed America's good faith by postponing the building of three cruisers already authorized by congress. Report had it he did so in the hope of aiding the negotiations in reaching a complete accord on cruiser strength. In the meantime and while this real dispute was disturbing the naval authorities of both nations, much talk was broadcast about a disagreement over battleship strength. The International News Service however, learned there was no dispute at any time over battleship strength. This feature of naval parity having been agreed early in the negotiations. High officials of both nations though look upon the temporary deadlock over cruiser strength as the real "bone of contention" at the conference. The difference that separated the two nations had its incubus in Great Britain's desire to retain 19 old cruisers of the 6 inch gun, 4,500 ton type. America at first suggested Britain sink the entire nineteen, thereby reducing the British naval cruiser strength to a tonnage that would necessitate the United States building but fifteen of the 10,000 ton eight inch gun type to reach parity. The British declined, somewhat hurt to think a friendly nation would so cripple the British ability to protect far flung commerce lanes. America then suggested each nation be given the option of having nineteen of the 4,500 ton, six inch gun type (8,000 tons), or six of the 10,000 ton, eight inch gun type (60,000 tons). A British proposal was made that each nation take either the 19 4,500 tonners or three of the 10,000 tonners. Both offers were rejected and the delegates went to London on that basis.

Neither of the alternate proposals would give an arbitrary parity to the two nations in cruiser strength, unless both chose the same option. As it appears the British will insist upon retaining the 19 old and light craft, the United States probably will have to match them with an arbitrary parity of something between 30,000 and 60,000 tons of modern cruisers.

The American delegation will be willing to accept the 60,000 ton figure as a "parity" with 85,000 tons of old shipping. The British are expected to insist that 30,000 tons or three 10,000 tonners, armed with eight-inch guns, form a parity with their 19 six-inch gun cruisers. In other words, the Americans will assert it will take six eight-inch gun cruisers to offset 19 six-inch gun cruisers—while the British naval experts will contend three eight-inch gun cruisers can equal the war strength of 19 old six-inch gun warships.

The British were said to have finally offered to add 7,000 tons to the American tonnage in another class of ships, if the three cruiser offer were accepted. The Americans declined, but this brought but two nations to within 23,000 tons of a complete accord on the full strength of their navies. Considering the many and varied elements of naval strength, including battleships, submarines, aircraft carriers, mother ships, destroyers and supply ships, as well as cruisers, the two Anglo-Saxon nations made tremendous progress in their preliminary negotiations. Observers here are hoping the progress will continue at London until a complete accord is reached on cruisers too, so that the conference may end in a new treaty for the limitation of naval armaments.

Bank Burglar Alarm Startles

There was excitement galore Monday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock when the burglar alarm at the Union Trust Company bank on North Mercer street went off without warning.

The people on the street in the vicinity stopped with bated breath, while at the police station, where the alarm also sounded, all was hustle and bustle for a moment, and then a rush was made for the bank by numbers of officers with loaded rifles.

On their arrival there the officers found that the alarm had gone off without any apparent cause.

Enthusiasm At Special Meetings

One of the most enthusiastic meetings yet held by the Salvation Army at its hall 26 East street in connection with the Jubilee Crusade now in progress, was that of Sunday night when a large crowd filled the hall. Mrs. Hettenbaugh Kentucky, mountain missionary, spoke on the subject of "The Balance Scale of Life." She emphasized the problem of youth with its many temptations. A solo was rendered by Ensign V. Thomsen who also led the singing. Another solo was rendered by the speaker on "Mother's Prayers." The after service saw many seekers at the altar promising to live a better life. This evening Rev. F. Tyler will be the speaker.

The special week end speaker will be Adjutant Helen Brown of the Pittsburgh district headquarters. Word has also been received from New York that Brigadier Fred Braun, chaplain of the Men's Social Service department for the eastern department will be visiting in New Castle with Brigadier William Heft of Cleveland and Captain Hunniwell of Youngstown. They will conduct a service, announcement of which will be made later. Ensign V. Thomsen also received word from Rev. Mark

Smith who last fall conducted services in Coaltown to the effect that he will be here in the near future and conduct a service for the Salvation Army.
